Letter to the editor

Dear Editor,

My comments are in regard to your article last week about a proposal by Kansas City Power and Light (KCP&L) and the Omaha Public Power District (OPPD) for a potential route for a high transmission power line in Holt County, Missouri, plotted just north and west of Squaw Creek National Wildlife Refuge (NWR). The proposed route, as you reported, can be described as beginning just north of Mound City and then running west between the refuge and Craig, MO, and then crossing the Missouri River south of Craig. This particular route is of great concern, as it would have a major negative impact to an environmentally sensitive area. This route crosses directly over and along numerous privately owned properties that are managed as seasonally flooded farmed wetlands and other wetlands managed for the express purpose of attracting migratory waterfowl in large numbers for recreational hunting and bird watching. This zone is considered to be one of the premiere waterfowl hunting destinations in North America. While it is a relatively small area, it compromises a large block of high quality habitat provided by private landowners that, at times, contains over two million migrating ducks and geese as well as numerous bald eagles and an increasing number of trumpeter swans and sand hill cranes. This area serves as an extension of Squaw Creek NWR.

Waterfowl tourism attracts thousands of waterfowl hunters and bird watchers to the Mound City area. Construction of such a line in this area where millions of waterfowl roost and forage would significantly degrade a delicate resource and the value of the area for these activities. It would eliminate the reasons for the landowners to invest funds to provide this quality waterfowl habitat. In recent weeks, US Fish and Wildlife officials have discovered several dead swans in this area that were killed in collisions with small power lines. The negative impacts of this particular proposed high transmission power line route to waterfowl and other migratory birds would be immeasurable. The impacts to recreational waterfowl hunting and waterfowl tourism would result in significant negative impacts to the local economy.

KCP&L and OPPD have been soliciting public input and information about the proposed project on the website midwesttransmissionproject.com and at several area public meetings. Officials have said that they want to know about possible conflicts and issues along potential proposed routes. Many individuals and organizations have already taken this opportunity and informed them that the area between Squaw Creek NWR and the city of Craig is environmentally unique and must be protected, and that it should be eliminated from any further consideration for such a project. I would encourage everyone to comment if you have not yet done so, before the comment period ends on Monday, February 11. KCP&L and OPPD are wise to solicit such information and input during the planning stages of this project. Once they are armed with the information they asked for, surely they will use it to make good choices.

Mound City Kiwanis Club news

The Mound City Kiwanis Club met at the United Methodist Church in Mound City on Wednesday, January 30, 2013, with seven members present. There was no program - a brief business meeting followed the meal. Friday evening, February 1, was the pancake feed courtwarming at the Mound City School. Tommye Quilty sent out a message to remind members. There was a discussion about the proposed power line that will be located two miles north of the refuge and crossing over a number of waterfowl hunting clubs.

Snow causes area schools to make up day in calendar

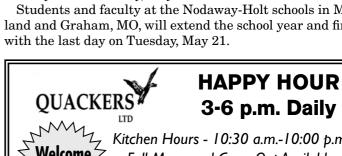

When snow and dire winter weather caused the cancellation of the four area schools on Wednesday, January 30, it also caused action to be taken regarding making up those days for students and teachers at Mound City R-2, Craig R-3, South Holt R-1, and Nodaway-Holt R-VII. At this time, barring no other snow days, the snow days will be handled as

For Mound City, the past two years' school calendars have had no inclement days built in. The 170 student day calendar (180 day teacher) does not build in snow days, which was no problem during the 2011-2012 'no snow' school year. This year, however, it was decided to make the missed day up on Monday, February 18, Presidents' Day.

The snow day caused the Craig R-3 School in Craig, MO, to add the day on at the end of the school calendar. Instead of dismissing on Wednesday, May 15, school will also be in session on Thursday, May 16.

For South Holt students and faculty in Oregon, MO, the school calendar was extended. They will now finish their school year on Tuesday, May 21.

Students and faculty at the Nodaway-Holt schools in Maitland and Graham, MO, will extend the school year and finish

News from Tiffany Heights

On Monday, January 28, the residents at Tiffany Heights in Mound City had to put their thinking caps on early as they played jingo. This month they played birthday bingo. They thought this would start the year off right. All questions and answers dealt with that wonderful day, their birthday. Winners of the games were Lois Woods, Inez VanOrman, Pat Barnes, Dorothy Egbert, and Doris Taylor.

The snow came and left, but the popcorn. the residents were still excited about it. They played a snow game on Tuesday morning that consisted of a fishing type game to see who could gather the most snow and who could make the best snowman. Winners of these games were Carol Ball, Dolores Hawkins, Chuck Milby, and Mary Lou Nauman. During the afternoon, the residents played Name Game. This month, the residents chose the words blueberry pancakes as the 28th of January is National Blueberry Pancake Day. They were able to make 182 different words using the letters, as they appear, in these words.

Ruth Swymeler received her four mile certificate and Dorothy Gilland achieved two miles in the walking group Wednesday. During the afternoon on Wednesday, residents had movie and popcorn day. The movie was "Last of the Mohicans". This was an interesting movie and not the western they anticipated. Where is John Wayne when you need him? They did enjoy

Barbara Hanlon assisted with glamour nails on Friday morning. Pastor Grant and Barbara Hanlon provided Bible Study also during the morning on Friday.

The month of February is heart month and to start it out right, the residents and staff participated in a Wear Red Day. On this day people were encouraged to wear red to show support for the women who have been affected by cardiovascular disease. Fortytwo people gathered to take their picture and wear red for this cause and to help participate in the Community Hospital-Fairfax, MO, challenge.

In anticipation of Groundhog Day, the residents enjoyed a few fun games during the afternoon on Friday. They played pig pop. Everyone got a chance to see if they could make a (plastic) pig pop a ball into a bucket. With three tries, the winners of this game were Lois Woods, Dorothy Gilland, and Dorothy Egbert. They tried to debunk the saying, "if pigs could fly", and tried to see if their pig could fly. They did! The pig that flew the longest distance belonged to Chuck Milby. The final game dealt with how well they knew pigs. Residents were asked a variety of questions and those who could answer knew their pigs. Winners were Doris Taylor, Betty Elder, Lucyle Benne, and Inez VanOrman. The residents enjoyed little piggies (smokies) after the games, but did not make a pig of themselves.

Games of choice were encouraged during the afternoon on Saturday. Larry Brickey and the Mound City Baptust Church family provided Sunday morning services. Afternoon worship was conducted by the Community of Christ Church.

The Craig R-3 Community Teachers' Association (CTA) hosted a soup and pie supper on Friday, February 1, prior to varsity basketball action against the Nodaway-Holt Trojans. In addition, the evening events honored the Craig and Fairfax senior athletes and their parents, and showcased elementary cheerleaders.

Soup and chili, along with pies that were made by Dottie Biermann, were served to a large group of people who participated in the free will donation event. The event was deemed 'very successful', as it drew a large crowd.

The annual event is used by the teachers' organization to help fund its annual scholarship. The organization awards a scholarship to one Craig graduating senior in the spring of each year in the amount of $250.

Holt County ag update

January 29, at the TJ Hall Building in Oregon, MO. The meeting began at 10 a.m. with presentations that addressed drought topics for row crop growers and cattle producers to about 15 area farmers.

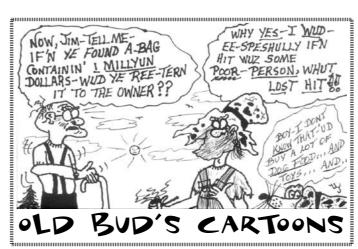

Wayne Flanary, Regional Agronomist, said that pastures and hay fields are struggling through drought with no soil moisture. Wayne stated, "Use all appropriate tools to protect yield from a specific threat. Some of the traits/chemicals that may indirectly protect yield from drought include: genetics for yield stability; biotech traits such as insect resistance; chemicals that protect root, stem and leaf function; and weed control reduces competition." Wayne discussed information on fertilizer and herbicide carryover, adjusting fertilizer rates and handling a variety of drought related questions that growers had asked.

Tom Fowler, Horticulture Specialist, addressed that no one knows what 2013 will bring. Tom stated, "Pat Guinan, MO State Climatologist, said it is impossible to say whether we're slipping

As of January 8, 2013, Missouri is in a severe drought and the drought will either stay persistent or intensify. Tom discussed how to help plants and trees around the homestead to survive.

Bob Kelly, Ag Business Specialist, addressed information about crop rental agreements, cash rent, and how to handle farm business during the drought. Land prices and cash rent prices are higher in northwest Missouri. Bob stated, "U.S. average corn yield has not met 160 bushels in the last three years. U.S. average soybean yield is increasing by 0.45 bushels per year."

In the afternoon, presentations were made by Amie Schleicher, Livestock Specialist, and Jim Crawford, Ag Engineer. Amie Schleicher presented strategies and ideas to manage the beef herd through the drought. Jim Crawford spoke about the options for storing corn with aflatoxin, effect of tillage on corn yields, livestock watering, and temporary storage of silage.

This Week's History

From the Mound City News archives

50 Years Ago - 1963

- A special meeting of the Mound City Chamber of Commerce was held to investigate the feasibility of a new area nursing home. Approximately 39 persons were present. Enough interest was generated for the nursing home proposition to justify a more complete study. The trend toward modern nursing homes is widespread all over the nation. New institutions have been established as close as Falls City, NE, and Shenandoah, IA.
- Jimmy Thompson and Bruce McCormack, accompanied by their fathers, Harold Thompson and Carson McCormack, and Jimmy's grandfather, Earl Cottier, were guests of the Kansas City Athletic baseball team at a party held in the clubhouse.
- The French class of the Craig R-3 School entertained the Bellevue French class with a supper and party at the home of Mary McQueen. Miss Kathy Elder was the teacher at Craig. Students from Bellevue were under the direction of Mrs. Charles Gillis.
- Dick's Rexall Drugs advertised Valentine specials. Special Valentine jewelry, a fine Valentine gift, was advertised for $1.00. Heart shaped boxes of beautifully decorated Pangburn's chocolates were available from 69¢ up. Special cards were 26 for 29¢, 36 for 49¢, and 50 for 59¢.

25 Years Ago - 1988

- · Sweetheart candidates for the annual Sweetheart Dance for Mound City FFA and FHA were Kevin Blazer, Jason White, Jason Young, Angie Pendleton, Jamie Hodge, and Kris Duncan.
- University Extension and the University of Missouri-College of Agriculture cooperated to set up a research and demonstration farm for area farmers. The farm is a 23 acre leased site located along Interstate 29 between the 101 and 102 mile markers.
- Bill View, superintendent of Holt County R-II School, and Don Neidt, superintendent of Nodaway-Holt R-VII, were among 23 area educators who accepted an invitation to serve on the Northwest Missouri State University Education Advisory Council.
- The second annual Federated Women's Club volleyball tournament was won by the Kami Kazi Kids team. Members of the team were Kris Riebesell, Debbie Loucks, Robin Elms, Cheri Patterson, Pam Scarbrough, Terry Vest, Steve Loucks, Marc Scarbrough, Chuck Nance, and Bill Patterson. The Scheib team from Oregon won second place, and the Hodge Podge team won third place.

10 Years Ago - 2003

- Hardee's, the cornerstone of the I-29 entrance to Mound City for 13 years, closed for good. A new McDonald's restaurant was expected to open in the spring after extensive remodeling of the building.
- Holt County finished 2002 with a general fund surplus of $304,301 and commissioners adopted a 2003 budget projecting a 3 percent increase in spending.
- Contracts were signed and construction was expected to start in the month to install about 1.17 million linear feet of pipe in Holt County Rural Water Supply District No. 1 at a cost of about $4.5 million.
- Craig FFA President Nehemiah Voltmer set fire to a bank note held by School Board President Dennis Showalter during an appreciation dinner for donors at the Craig Legion Building. FFA Supervisor Jim Ball said the FFA bought 10 acres behind the school in 1997 for use as an FFA farm and paid off the note in October.

Archery deer and turkey harvests up from last year

Bowhunters posted increases in both deer and turkey harvests during Missouri's 2012-2013 archery deer and turkey hunting season, topping the previous year's figures for the second year in a row.

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) reports that hunters checked 53,997 deer during the fourmonth archery season. That is a 2.5 percent increase from the previous year, which was a record. Archers checked 3,217 turkeys, a 10 percent increase from the previous

Lifeline Program NorthwestCell Customers in Missouri

Lifeline is a government program that offers qualified individuals a discount on their monthly local telephone bill. Each state has its own guidelines to qualify. Lifeline is available on one telephone service per household, whether wireline or wireless.

How much can I save on my phone bill?

NorthwestCell offers two Lifeline Plan options, a $17.95 plan and $21.95 plan. You will save up to $9.25 on either of these selected plans.

How do I know if I'm eligible?

You're eligible for Lifeline if you participate in any of the following programs:

- MO Health Net (Medicaid)
- Supplemental Security Income (Food Stamps) Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- Low-Income Home Energy Assistance (LIHEAP)
- Federal Public Housing Assistance (Section 8)
- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) National School Lunch Free Lunch Program
- 135% of the Federal Poverty Level

Are there any restrictions?

Lifeline can only be used for one telephone per household—either wireless or wireline.

Applications are available at social services offices, NorthwestCell's main office, all agent locations or online at www.nwmcell.com. You may also contact us at (800) 331-6341.

Other Information:

Discounts are available on select handsets. Please see retail office for more information.

How do I continue to receive Lifeline benefits?

Eligibility is reviewed periodically. Your benefits will be discontinued when you no longer meet the eligibility requirements or when proof of eligibility is not received. You are responsible for contacting NorthwestCell if you are no longer eligible for Lifeline Service.

Being a Lifeline customer does not protect you from being disconnected if you fail to pay your telephone bill. Normal collection practices apply.

A large crowd of chili connoisseurs- Arrived at the Mound City gym to sample as many as 13 varieties of chili made for the annual Chili Cook-Off on Thursday, January 31. Despite the frigid weather outside, that had prevented school from being held the previous day, a large crowd attended the event.

Mound City Chili Cook-Off well attended

Mound City R-2 elementary and middle school students and faculty welcomed over 245 guests to the annual Chili Cook-Off on Thursday, January 31, amidst blustery winter conditions outside.

Attendees purchased a tasting spoon, which allowed them to taste test 13 different kinds of chili prepared by the grades, Preschool through 8th grade, along with special recipes from elementary special education, middle school special education and Title I Reading. The purchase of the spoon also allowed patrons to vote for the favorite chili.

Each chili was secretly numbered and randomly manned by students and teachers during the course of the evening. When the votes were tallied, Miss Cheryl Mauderly's third grade class was voted the winning chili. Miss Mauderly claims the secret ingredient to the winning chili recipe, that she got from her dad, was the salsa.

Mr. Ryan Osburn's class earned second place in the cook-off, and Mrs. Darcy Kent's chili earned third place.

Mound City 3rd grade teacher, Miss Cheryl Mauderly, right- Served up another class's chili during the Mound City Chili Cook-Off on Thursday, January 31. Miss Mauderly's chili, wherever it was, was awarded chili champion.

Eighth grade student, Riley Holstine, right- Served up a bowl of #9 chili to Rick Barnes during the annual Chili Cook-Off on Thursday, January 31. Rick was one of 245 taste testers for this year's cook-off.

FSA reminds producers of upcoming deadline for noninsurable crops

Kami Hubach, Acting Ex- agents. ecutive Director for the Holt County Farm Service Agency (FSA), reminds producers that Friday, March 15, 2013, is the application closing date to sign up for Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) coverage on many crops, including native forage and pasture and most spring-seeded

NAP provides financial assistance to producers of noninsurable crops when low yields, loss of inventory or prevented planting occur due to natural

"Purchasing a crop insurance policy is an easy way for producers to mitigate risk," Hubach said. "The past few years have shown that natural disasters can severely impact an otherwise successful operation."

Hubach said the March 15th deadline also applies to persons who have a 2012 policy that expired and want to renew coverage for 2013. NAP coverage is available for crops

Join Us on Facebook

The NAP program covers losses of more than 50 percent of normal yields or the farm's yield calculated using actual production histories. Payments for production lost in excess of 50 percent are paid at 55 percent of the values established for the crop.

NAP policies not only provide insurance protection, but may be a requirement to participate in other FSA programs, such as the Farm Storage Facility Loan program.

The cost per policy is $250 per crop per producer with a $750 cap per county, not to exceed $1,875 for multi-county producers. NAP coverage begins 30 days after the application is filed and the $250 administrative fee has been paid. The $250 administrative fee is non-refundable.

Producers are encouraged to contact the Holt County FSA office to obtain NAP coverage or for additional information before the Friday, March 15, 2013, deadline. Information on the NAP program can also be found on FSA's website at www.fsa.usda.gov.
