Jo Jo's Cookie Kart - Is a new venture run by Matt and Joey Livengood and Samantha Miles, all of Mound City, that takes Joey's good baking on the road.

New business rolls into local venues

For years, family and friends have enjoyed Joey Livengood's delicious sugar cookies and birthday cakes. She has mastered the skill of decorating her cakes and cookies, but most love the flavor of her delectable baked goods.

Several years ago, Joey and her sister, Samantha Miles, joined forces and started up Northwest Graphix, offering screen printing, embroidery and vinyl lettering on clothing and other products. They moved their business this spring from State Street in Mound City to Route N, five miles north of Mound City with an addition to their workload in mind. If the new venture worked out, there might be an occasional Thursday or Friday that the two would not be at the shop and they didn't want to close a storefront. The business now runs mostly on phone calls and emails that can be handled from anywhere and offers the same quality products as always.

Joey and her husband, Matt, and Samantha had been talking about buying a concession trailer for several years. They finally decided to start up a new business on weekends and purchased a concession trailer, complete with two ovens. Jo Jo's Cookie Kart became a reality the first part of May and has kept the trio busy most weekends since, traveling to county fairs, flea markets, rodeos and even setting up in the parking lot of Dick's Sporting Goods one day. The trio hopes to attend several carnivals this year, also. "We have learned something new at each place we have set up so far," stated Joey.

Jo Jo's Cookie Kart sells fresh baked cookies, ice cream sandwiches, sundaes, cake pops and rice crispy treats on a stick. At the Rumble By The Refuge Truck and Tractor Pull on Friday and Saturday, June 24-25, at Mound City, Jo Jo's Cookie Kart will be adding two new products for sale: slushies and frozen chocolate-covered cheesecakes.

The bright yellow trailer will be set up behind the new crow's nest at the tractor pull and the crew of Jo Jo's Cookie Kart is looking forward to showing off their goodies for the locals. A sweet tooth will definitely be satisfied with all of the delicious goodies being offered at the latest new business in town.

Community Hospital-Fairfax to open new clinic in Fall 2016

Plans are underway to bring family medicine to Burlington Junction, MO, in the fall of 2016. With the recent announcement about Lindsay Allan, M.D., joining the Community Hospital-Fairfax (CH-F), MO, team in October, the hospital is now able to expand its clinic presence.

"Primary care access is absolutely essential to the health of a community. The more locations in our service area we can bring family medicine, the better it is for our communities," explained CH-F Chief Executive Officer, Roger Steinkruger.

The hospital is still working on plans for which providers on the team will be seeing patients in Burlington Junction and on what days, but plans are moving forward to locate land and bring in a modular clinic for the planned late fall of 2016 opening.

CH-F has recently been expanding its family medicine presence. In August of 2014, a clinic was opened in Mound City with Dustin Carpenter, Doctor of Medicine (M.D.), and Becky Heits, Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP), seeing patients. In January of 2016, Sherlyn Sipes, FNP, began seeing patients in the South Holt Family Medicine Clinic in Oregon, MO. Burlington Junction adds a convenient location for residents in Nodaway County to receive primary care.

Questions about plans for the clinic can be directed to the hospital at 660-686-2211. For updates about the clinic and other hospital happenings, watch the hospital's Facebook page or visit www.FairfaxMed.com.

Informal News Beat

Our thoughts and prayers are with the family of Bud Neiderhouse. We will sure miss Bud stopping by the newspaper office from time to time. Most of you knew Bud, and how kind hearted he always was. Bud used to draw a weekly cartoon for this newspaper a few years ago. He always made our day brighter and he will never be forgotten. I picked an old cartoon that Bud had drawn for the paper. This one happened to appear in the March 14, 2013, edition of the Mound City News.

Remembering

By Eugene A. Poynter

"Right, rights." Have you ever looked up, in a modern dictionary, the meaning of the word "right"? Be sure to have plenty of time because the explanation of the word "right" takes up at least 10 inches of a page, not counting the words "rightness", "rightmost", "by rights", "by all rights", "in one's right", "righter", "right away", "right brain", "righteous", "rightful", "rightism", "right now" (a popular one used by parents, teachers, etc., in saying 'Do it, Gene, right now'), "right off", and "right on" (typical greeting). In school, in my day, I don't remember looking up anything about "right". Now, all we see or hear about is someone's "rights", but usually not what affects one's "rights". Guess that's why Webster had to enlarge its book to get all the words in, but a lot of good it does if not enough pay attention to it. The problem we have is that too many "rights" for a few have been made into laws to go by. I don't think a law can make people truly like each other. I think new laws only further separate us into different groups, etc.

It has always seemed to me that we were born instilled with the ability to know what is "right". As we grew up, I'm sure when we deliberately did a certain thing like dump our plate on the floor, throw something, tear up our toys, etc., we dared being disciplined for it; and if we weren't, we tried it again. How did we know it wasn't "right"? We couldn't even walk yet. Thanks go to our parents who kept us on the "right track" - if you want to call it that. Over the years, some decided they had the "right" to do what they wanted - thinking and demanding all their "rights", ignoring others who had "rights" too. Back when our country was new, we were governed by a set of laws based on the needs of the majority. What happened? Gradually, the so called "rights" of a few dominated with demands for them only. We all let it happen. I guess it was easier to sit back and let it go, but the early laws were "right". There is a verse of an old cowboy song I like . . . "Back in the saddle again, where you sleep out every night and the ONLY LAW IS RIGHT . . . whoever wrote those words was really thinking.

When another veteran and I drove the Jeep across America, there was one outstanding happening that I never forgot. While we were eating an evening meal somewhere in Ohio, we decided we'd park the Jeep close and sit down and enjoy a relaxed one. It went well until a band of young men came by - every size, color, clean, dirty, bearded, long hair, shaved head - and surrounded the Jeep. For some reason I told Bill, let's wait and see what happens. They walked with folded arms all around it several times, talking and looking it over and decided to move on. Two stood there and one rubbed and petted the roof like you would a pet and the other did the same to the hood and they were gone. We decided wherever they came from, whatever they had done or would still do, somewhere in their backgrounds there was still a respect for that Jeep, the USA, and the "right" for it to sit there and not be bothered. Everyone related the little Jeep to our country - next to the flag. I told Bill, I bet those young men would look after our Jeep that night and not let anyone bother it. Wonder if that show of "rights" was left over from birth or what was taught them? Our country did fairly well for a long time by mostly sticking to our structure of laws, which are forgotten now it seems. That we were a government by the people, for the people, and of the people, I think that's "right".

An example that shows how unbalanced we are now was in the St. Joseph News-Press in the "Mallard Fillmore" drawing. It had a drawing of a restroom door with the sign on it saying "Gender Neutral Restroom" with someone inside shouting, "Okay, who left the toilet seat halfway up?". As stupid as that is, I'm sure someone will be making a toilet seat that will work halfway up. Laws made for a few are different. I'll still take most of the old ways with the different meaning of "right". Watch your back.

INFORMATION FOR MISSOURI CORN FARMERS

In 2009 Syngenta released a new strain of corn seed into the United States market before receiving import approval from China. Without import approval, China rejected U.S. corn shipments in 2013 and 2014, causing a global collapse in corn prices. Any corn farmer, regardless of whether or not they planted Viptera or other Syngenta seed was impacted.

Letters alert eligible Medicare beneficiaries to missed benefits

Medicare beneficiaries will soon be receiving a letter from the Social Security Administration (SSA) if they may be eligible for help with out-of-pocket medical and drug expenses. "These letters are not a scam. They are an important notification that Medicare beneficiaries should review and consider," reports representatives from Northwest Missouri Area Agency on Aging (NWMOAAA). "Our staff members can help determine if beneficiaries are eligible, help apply, enroll, and even understand how to use the new benefits after approval."

The letters are sent annually to people with Medicare with limited incomes who could be eligible for, but are not enrolled in, a Medicare Savings Program, which helps with Medicare out-of-pocket costs; or Extra Help, which helps with the costs of prescription drugs.

Anyone who receives a letter, or who believes they or someone they know may be able to get help from these programs, should contact Northwest Missouri Area Agency on Aging at 888-844-5626 or 726-3800, to make an appointment for assistance. NWMOAAA encourages beneficiaries who receive these letters to take action to learn more about the Medicare Savings Program (MSP) and Extra Help or other programs of possible eligibility.

In addition, Medicare beneficiaries can go online to see if they are eligible for MSPs, Extra Help and other benefits that can supplement the monthly budget. The National Council on Aging's BenefitsCheckUp® is a free, confidential screening tool that can connect older adults and younger adults with disabilities to these programs. ### Letter to the editor

Dear Editor,

An interesting question was recently asked of the Holt County Extension Office staff: When was the Holt County Extension Council formed? Unfortunately, we have not found the records necessary to answer that question. Even our call to the University Extension office in Columbia did not provide this information. We would like to invite your readers to help us answer this, and other questions.

A number of items have been found, including pictures dating back to the 1920s. If you, or someone you know, has pictures or other artifacts from 4-H, an Extension Club, or other University Extension activities, you may contact the office at 446-3724, or mail copies of items to P.O. Box 407, Oregon, MO, 64473. We would be very interested in finding out the names and years of service for county agents, council members, 4-H leaders, and others who have been instrumental in the development of the Holt County University Extension program.

Sincerely, Jodie Kurtz, Vice-Chair
Holt County Extension Council

Missouri State Highway Patrol reminds travelers to be safe during the Fourth of July holiday

Colonel J. Bret Johnson, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, reminds Missouri's travelers of the importance of safety during the upcoming July Fourth holiday. Many people will travel somewhere to enjoy the three-day holiday. Whether plans will take place on land or on the water, please be courteous and follow all Missouri traffic and boating laws.

In 2015, 14 people were killed and 427 injured in Missouri over the holiday in 953 traffic crashes. One person was killed or injured every 10.6 minutes. Over the 2015 July Fourth holiday, troopers arrested 127 people for driving while intoxicated.

The 2016 counting period for the July Fourth holiday will be from 6 p.m., Friday, July 1, to 11:59 p.m., Monday, July 4.

The Highway Patrol will be participating in Operation C.A.R.E. (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) over the July Fourth holiday weekend. All available troopers will be patrolling Missouri's roadways enforcing traffic laws in addition to being available to assist motorists. Please be a courteous driver and follow all traffic laws. Drive sober, obey the speed limit, pay attention, and make sure everyone is properly restrained.

Motorists who need assistance or who witness criminal activity while traveling on Missouri's roadways can contact the nearest Highway Patrol troop headquarters by calling the Patrol Emergency Report Line at 1-800-525-5555 or *55 on a cellular phone. Motorists may call 1-888-275-6636 to check for road construction along their travel route.

The Highway Patrol also reminds the public that the Fourth of July holiday is one of the busiest boating holidays of the year. In 2015, there were seven boating crashes, which included four injuries and no fatalities. No one drowned during last year's July Fourth holiday.

Troopers will be working on the state's waters to ensure safety. Missouri's boaters are asked to do their part by remaining alert for other boats and swimmers, and being courteous on the water. With more boats on the water, it is even more important to pay attention when operating your vessel. Don't consume alcohol and operate a vessel and be responsible with the wake.

Before heading out to firework displays after dark, check the vessel's navigation lights, and be sure to have spare bulbs on board. Slow down and take time and remember Missouri's nighttime speed limit of 30 miles per hour on the water. Nighttime crashes tend to involve more serious injuries and damage, due to the lack of visibility.

Finally, it is illegal to discharge fireworks from a vessel, so leave them in a safe place on shore.

"Please be courteous whether operating a vehicle or a vessel. Whether you're on the water or the road, if your celebration includes alcohol, designate someone else to act as your sober chauffeur," said Colonel Johnson. "Drivers make sure your passengers wear their seat belts and boat captains should insist that everyone wear a lifejacket."

Big crowd raises funds for Aidan Waggoner and family

A benefit dinner, auction and special raffles' night was held for Aidan Waggoner, 6, of Oregon, MO, on Saturday, June 18, at the TJ Hall building in Oregon. The event, along with donations, raised over $15,000 for Team Aidan with more than 350 people attending.

Aidan and his parents, Rob and Kristi Waggoner, did not return from Pennsylvania, where Aidan had been a patient at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia for several days, until Sunday, June 19, at 9:30 p.m. The family was escorted into town by the South Holt fire trucks of Oregon. More than 100 people attended his welcome home rally on the Oregon square and Aidan was made an honorary member of the South Holt Fire Department.

Aidan was born with Peripheral Left Heart disease and has had four heart surgeries. As a complication from his last surgery, Aidan developed plastic bronchitis, a lymphatic flow disorder that causes severe respiratory issues. His recent trip to Philadelphia was for a very rare surgery to, hopefully, avoid the need for a heart transplant.

Many fund raisers are still planned for the Waggoner family, including a special at Buffalo Wild Wings in St. Joseph, MO, in July. Check out the Team Aidan Facebook page or contact Stacie Todd at 816-261-0493 for any information or to make a donation to Team Aidan.

Brandon, 64, of Mound City, was northbound on Route N and Russell L. The Silverado came to rest on the roadway on its wheels facing west. The Nova came to rest off the west side of the roadway on its wheels facing north.

A 1987 Chevrolet Nova - Driven by Russell L. Neiderhouse was totaled in a two-vehicle accident on Route N on Friday, June 17. Neiderhouse later died of his injuries.

Neiderhouse, who was not wearing a seat belt, was taken by Atchison-Holt Ambulance to the Mound City Airport and flown to Mosaic Life Care in St. Joseph, MO, by a LifeNet helicopter. He was pronounced dead at Mosaic Life Care at 12:43 p.m., Friday, June 17. Brandon, who was wearing a seat belt, was treated at the scene and transported to the Holt County Sheriff's office in Oregon and charged with a Class B misdemeanor of Driving While Intoxicated. Brandon was later charged with Involuntary Manslaughter - Vehicular - Intoxicated, a felony, after the death of Neiderhouse.

The 1987 Nova was towed from the scene with extensive damage by Double D Towing in Mound City. ## Seasonal and simple 3.0 app adds preserving produce component

by Janet Hackert, Regional Nutrition and Health Education Specialist

Ever wonder what fresh fruits or vegetables are the best buy because they are in season locally; or what might be available at a farmers' market or roadside produce stand; and what to do with what is available, including a variety of preservation methods? Well, there is an application (app) for that. University of Missouri (MU) Extension has recently updated its Seasonal and Simple application that answers these questions and more.

The Seasonal and Simple app provides a list of fruits and vegetables that are available locally in Missouri. The app tells when they are in season, how to select them, what nutritional value they have and how to store them to best maintain quality. It also includes some other produce items that are likely to be available year-round though not grown in the Midwest, like bananas or pineapples.

For each fruit or vegetable listed, there is an explanation of how to prepare the fruit or vegetable, in general, and some serving suggestions and recipes. Some of these recipes are specific to the particular fruit or vegetable itself. Others include other fruits or vegetables that would be in season at the same time of year. Some of the recipes in the Seasonal and Simple app are pretty basic, like whole baked apples, cheesy broccoli and pasta bake, or roasted pumpkin seeds. Others are less common ideas like spinach on pizza, grilled radishes, or roasted beet salad. Some recipes just offer a new way to fix an old standby, like roasted sweet potatoes: no sugar added, but instead roasted with basil, oregano, garlic or ginger.

With 3.0 version updates made in time for the 2016 growing season, the Seasonal and Simple app now also includes guidelines for preserving produce. Recipes and procedures for canning, freezing and dehydrating are included. These recommendations follow U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) guidelines and have been tested for safety. There are also short videos and definitions of terms to help the novice understand what to do. For more information on food preservation or to set up a hands-on class, contact a local MU Extension office.

Although the original app is available for use with iPhone, iPad, and Android devices, the updates have so far only been added to the iPhone/iPad version. The basic information is also available online at seasonalandsimple.info.

"MU Extension partnered with the University of Nebraska to expand the application to include a feature that locates Nebraska farmers' markets," says Cindy DeBlauw, coordinator for this updating project and MU Extension Associate in the department of Nutrition and Exercise Physiology. The app also indicates seasonality information for Nebraska. DeBlauw adds, "Both partners continue to seek additional state Extension partnerships to further expand the reach of the app."

Some of the information is also available in book form, Seasonal and Simple - a Guide for Enjoying Fresh Fruits and Vegetables. Contact a local MU Extension office to purchase a copy or order online at <http://extension.missouri.edu/publications>.

For more information on this or any other topic, contact Janet Hackert at 660-425-6434 or HackertJ@missouri.edu or a local MU Extension office.

Farm Service Agency County Committee Nomination Period has begun

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced that the nomination period for farmers and ranchers to serve on local Farm Service Agency (FSA) county committees began on Wednesday, June 15.

"Through the county committees, farmers and ranchers have a voice. Their opinions and ideas get to be heard on federal farm programs," said FSA Administrator Val Dolcini. "I encourage all eligible farmers and ranchers across the spectrum of American agriculture to get involved in this year's elections. We have seen an increase in the number of qualified nominees, especially among women and minorities, and I hope that trend continues."

To be eligible to serve on a FSA county committee, a person must participate or cooperate in an FSA administered program, be eligible to vote in a county committee election and reside in the local administrative area where they are nominated.

Farmers and ranchers may nominate themselves or others. Organizations representing minorities and women also may nominate candidates. To become a candidate, an eligible individual must sign an FSA-669A nomination form. The form and other information about

FSA county committee elections are available at www.fsa.usda.gov/elections. 2016 nomination forms must be postmarked or received in the local USDA Service Center by close of business on Monday, August 1.

FSA will mail election ballots to eligible voters beginning Monday, November 7. Ballots must be returned to the local county office via mail or in person by Monday, December 5. Newly-elected committee members and alternates will take office on Sunday, January 1, 2017.

Nationwide, there are approximately 7,800 farmers and ranchers serving on FSA county committees. These individuals make decisions on disaster and conservation programs, emergency programs, commodity price support loan programs, and other agricultural issues. Committees consist of three to 11 members that are elected by eligible producers, and members serve three-year terms.

To learn more about county committees, contact the local FSA county office or visit <http://offices.usda.gov> to find a nearby county office.

Since 2009, USDA has worked to strengthen and support American agriculture, an industry that supports one in 11 American jobs, provides American consumers with more than 80 percent of the food Americans consume, ensures that Americans spend less of their paychecks at the grocery store than most people in other countries, and supports markets for homegrown renewable energy and materials. USDA has also provided $5.6 billion in disaster relief to farmers and ranchers; expanded risk management tools with products like Whole Farm Revenue Protection; and helped farm businesses grow with $36 billion in farm credit.

The department has engaged its resources to support a strong next generation of farmers and ranchers by improving access to land and capital; building new markets and market opportunities; and extending new conservation opportunities. USDA has developed new markets for rural-made products, including more than 2,500 biobased products through USDA's BioPreferred program; and invested $64 billion in infrastructure and community facilities to help improve the quality of life in rural America. ## Fireworks safety

Independence Day is one of the most accident-prone holidays of the year. It's not the drinking and driving, but the one thing that everyone looks most forward to on the 4th that causes the most problems—the fireworks. The National Council of Fireworks Safety estimates that between 7,000 and 10,000 injuries occur every year because of fireworks. Being aware of a few basic rules for fireworks safety can keep everyone healthy.

Little kids are probably the most excited by fireworks, but they are also the ones in the most danger. It's important to have a conversation with kids every year about fireworks safety, particularly as they get older and get a little more independent. Kids like to explore and imitate their parents or older siblings, so start them off with something small and stress safety at every turn.

Alcohol is not uncommon at 4th of July celebrations, but drinking and fireworks, much like drinking and driving, are not a good combination. Alcohol can impair judgment and encourage additional risk taking. Just as you would have a designated driver at a New Year's Eve party, have a designated fireworks lighter that evening.

Fireworks should be used as they are intended, and you want to make sure you use legal fireworks. The attraction of illegal fireworks can be great, but there is no guarantee you will get anything of quality or safe. Unregulated fireworks can have defects that will make them explode. It can also be tempting to twist fireworks together to see them explode, but this too can have unintended, dangerous consequences. Always keep a safe distance from fireworks and shoot in an open space. This safe distance should be maintained by the shooter and by visitors. Just in case something happens, keep a bucket of water or a hose nearby.

If you don't use all of your fireworks, you'll have to store them. Keep them in a dry place free of any sources of ignition. Store them away from oil, gas or kerosene, and try to have them behind a locked door so that children and teens won't raid the stash when you aren't looking. Make sure there is a working smoke detector in the room and you have a fire extinguisher nearby just in case.

Keeping safe when using fireworks isn't a hard task, but it does require some attention. Use common sense, and if you're tempted to try something new, make sure you follow the manufacturers' suggestions when lighting fireworks. That way, you can be safe year after year and enjoy the show without becoming another statistic.

Independence Day Pet Show

The Independence Day Pet Show in Mound City will be held at 2 p.m. on Monday, July 4, on the stage at Griffith Park. The categories this year will be: Small Dogs; Large Dogs; and All Other Animals. There will be prizes awarded for first, second and third places in each category. The three first place winners will then compete for Best in Show.

All animals need to be registered by 1:45 p.m. the day of the show. Registration will take place on the stage. More information about the show may be obtained by calling Terry Martin at 402-245-0004; Misty Stadalman at 660-442-6016; or Shelly Portman at 816-387-1149.

Trojanettes place second in Donnie Downs Father's Day Tournament

The Trojanettes 14 and under team members took home second place in the Donnie Downs Father's Day Tournament held on Friday and Saturday, June 17-18, in Independence, MO. They went 4-2 on the weekend.

Game one of pool play was a nail biter, but the Trojanettes came out on top with Braidy Hunt knocking in Maddyx Kirkland in the bottom of the last inning. Sadie Smith shut down Stealth while she was on the rubber. Stealth managed just one hit off of Smith, who allowed no earned runs, walked one and struck out seven during her five innings of work. Shaina Culp, Smith, Bailey Piper, Hunt, Kirkland, and Emma Bohannon each had a hit in the victory.

The Trojanettes were never able to get their offense going against the Flamez in the second pool game of the weekend. They lost by a score of 8-0. Emily Cassavaugh and Emma Bohannon each had a hit in the game, while Kiah Huiitt took the loss on the mound.

On Saturday morning, the Trojanettes wrapped up pool play with a 10-9 victory over the Rebels. Kiah Huiitt got the win for the Trojanettes. She allowed four runs over one inning. Huiitt struck out two, walked none and gave up five hits. The game was back-and-forth heading into the fourth, with eight lead changes. The Trojanettes pulled out the win thanks to a strong fourth inning. The Trojanettes went up for good on a Runs Batted In (RBI) single by Riley McQueen off Fisher, bringing home Bailey Piper. Emma Bohannon, Shaina Culp, and Baylee Knorr were perfect at the plate each going 2-2. The Rebels jumped out to an early 2-0 lead in the top of the first. It didn't take long for the Trojanettes to answer as the team scored four runs of its own in the first. The Trojanettes scored on an RBI single by Knorr, a groundout by McQueen, and a two-run single by Emily Cassavaugh. The Trojanettes answered the Rebels' top inning with four runs in the second. Then, they scored on a groundout by Braidy Hunt, an RBI single by Bohannon, and a two-run single by Knorr.

The first game of bracket play presented the Trojanettes with a familiar opponent, the Northland Cougarz. This was the seventh time that the Trojanettes had faced the Cougarz, and was a rubber match of sorts, as each team had won three of the previous meetings. Each time the two teams have faced, the games have been close, and this one was no exception. After jumping out to a quick lead, the Trojanettes were able to come out with a 4-3 victory. Sadie Smith recorded the win for the Trojanettes. She allowed three runs over five innings. She struck out two, walked one and surrendered four hits. Baylee Knorr went 2-2 at the plate, and had three RBIs, while Emma Bohannon was also a perfect 2-2 at the plate and scored two runs. Maddyx Kirkland also had one hit and one RBI in the victory.

In the semifinals, the Trojanettes faced the Smithville Sting Red, and were again victorious, this time by a score of 5-2. The Sting couldn't get anything going as long as Sadie Smith was on the rubber. They managed just one hit off of the Trojanettes' pitcher, who allowed one earned run, walked two and struck out four. Kiah Huiitt, Smith, and Braidy Hunt each had a hit in the victory. Emily Cassavaugh had two RBIs, and Emma Bohannon scored two runs.

The Trojanettes' opponent in the championship game was the Torque from Warsaw, MO. Although they jumped out to a 2-0 lead, the Trojanettes were not able to hang on for the victory, and lost by a score of 8-2. Sadie Smith took the loss on the mound. The Trojanettes runs were scored by Braidy Hunt and Madeline Smith.

Next, the Trojanettes will take two weeks off before they play in the United States Specialty Sports Association (USSSA) Missouri State Tournament Friday, July 8, through Saturday, July 9. Their season record is now 27-14-1.

Wyatt Meyer attending 2016 Missouri Scholars' Academy

This summer, the University of Missouri (MU) is hosting more than 300 top Missouri high school students at the Missouri Scholars' Academy (MSA) in Columbia, MO. During the program, held June 12 - July 2, scholars are participating in a comprehensive educational experience that will encourage the gifted students to embrace their intellects and challenge themselves academically.

"All of the activities at the Academy are designed to be broadening and enriching," said director Steven Keller, associate director of the MU Honors' College. "In their hometown high schools and often from society at large, many of these students get the message that being smart isn't cool; but, at the Missouri Scholars' Academy, we want to encourage these talented students to own their intelligence and inspire them to put it to good use. In particular, we hope to get students to engage in activities that are outside their comfort zones and push themselves past arbitrary limits they might have subconsciously set for themselves."

MSA began in 1985 and provides students unique opportunities to expand their educational and social skills. This year, students are spending their days in intensive classroom settings, studying one of four individually selected subjects - including mathematics, science, social studies and humanities. Each Missouri high school is allowed to nominate one junior-to-be for the academy; larger schools may nominate more. Students represent nearly every county in the state.

Outside the classroom, students are participating in a series of activities, workshops and discussions led by guest speakers from around the country. Author and illustrator Earl "E.B." Lewis is headlining the academy's Teacher Appreciation Day activities. Other guests include Missouri documentary filmmaker Mark Norwine, and Linda Godwin, former astronaut and current professor of physics at MU. Scholars have the option to watch a dress rehearsal of the Missouri Symphony Society, listen to Grammy-nominated storyteller Milbre Burch, or participate in discussions on topics ranging from climate change to medical ethics, stem cells and the Syrian refugee crisis.

MSA participants are among the top 0.5% of Missouri students academically. One goal of the academy is to have attendees leave with the understanding that they have a responsibility to share their talents with others for the betterment of their local communities. Many MSA alumni participate in programs such as Teach for America, Peace Corps or other nonprofit organizations. MSA alumni also continue to succeed academically. Of those who are old enough, 98 percent of academy alumni have graduated from high school, 90 percent have graduated from college and more than 2,500 alumni have earned graduate or professional degrees.

Wyatt Meyer, an incoming junior at Mound City R-2, was accepted into the program and moved on campus on Sunday, June 12, for the three week academy. Wyatt is the son of Daren and Lori Meyer of Mound City.

Hard work earns third place for Mound City Pints 10-12

Mound City Pints 10-12 - Claimed the third place trophy at Clearmont, MO, in a three-day tournament, Friday, June 10 - Sunday, June 12. Seeded seventh in the 12-team tournament, the team fought hard against good teams in extremely hot temperatures to play in the semi-final game on Sunday, June 12. "I couldn't have been prouder," said Coach Corey Gordon. "These kids really came together as a team." Pictured, left to right, front row, Hunter Gordon, Noah Oswald, Quinton Brandon, Bentley Wright, Cole Gillenwater and Abby Nauman; and, back row, Coach Corey Gordon, Trevor Tubbs, William Rother, Hunter Voltmer, Chase Summers, Brendan Tubbs, Gavin Summers, Bryson Tenney and Coach Jason Tenney. ## Richards attends HYMAX Academy

One member from the South Holt FFA Chapter attended the 4th Annual Helping Youth Maximize their Agricultural eXperience (HYMAX) Academy from Friday, June 17, to Sunday, June 19. HYMAX, sponsored by the Missouri FFA Association, was held at Camp Rising Sun located within the Lake of the Ozarks State Park in Kaiser, MO. Sophie Richards, daughter of Bill and Katherine Richards of Oregon, MO, was 1 of 100 incoming sophomores selected from across the state to participate in this year's HYMAX Academy. The academy provided extensive leadership training for 100 high school students who are members of FFA across Missouri every year. The high school sophomore students were selected out of many applicants to attend this Agricultural Advocacy academy through a rigorous application process. They were trained by MO State FFA Officers as well as past MO State FFA Officers, Agricultural Educators, Teach Ag Ed Ambassadors, and MO FFA State Staff.

Sophie Richards

Students learned how to advocate for agriculture, strengthen their Supervised Agricultural Experience, and develop their communication and personal leadership skills. Each student was assigned a small group and agricultural issue topic that they had to develop a 5 to 8 minute presentation about. These 10 topics ranged from GMOs, Big Data, and the Endangered Species Act. In addition to this, Richards toured a local goat farm and Lake Career and Technical Center in Camdenton, MO. Guest speakers and presenters including Director of Agriculture Education and Missouri State FFA Advisor Leon Busdieker, past director Dr. Terry Heiman, Farm Bureau National Legislative Programs Director Garrett Hawkins, and numerous others helped teach members the importance of "Advocating" and telling the story as agriculturalists.

This academy is exclusively for FFA members. The National FFA Organization makes a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education. Nationally there are over 500,000 FFA members. Missouri ranks fourth in the nation with over 25,000 FFA members.

On your mark, get set, giddy-up!

The Mound City Public Library Summer Reading Program - Took its activity outside on Tuesday, June 14. Bonita Haer and Amanda Griffin brought a horse and pony for the readers to ride. Above, Amanda's Gypsy gives Graclyn Brandon, left, a ride around the City Park with Susie Roseman, right, of Mound City, helping out. Bonita's horse, Aslan, an Icelandic horse, gave cart rides in front of the library. Graclyn is the daughter of KC and Annissa Brandon of Mound City.

Area I FFA officer training day at MOERA ropes course

Four members of the Mound City R-2 FFA officer team attended Area I officer training day at the Mozingo Outdoor Education Recreation Area (MOERA) ropes course on Monday, June 13. The officers that attended were Malori Davis, Gabrielle Heck, Kaitie Smith and Bailee Schueth. The ropes course is located outside of Maryville, MO, at Mozingo Lake.

The girls started the day with a few ice breakers with the other officers of chapters which attended. There was a total of 12 students who attended the event from Mound City, Stewartville, MO, and Northeast Nodaway of Ravenwood, MO.

The final event the officers did as a group was making their way across the Odyssey Course. The group had to use teamwork and communication skills to make it all the way across. This course is 90 feet in the air and has five separate stations that span a length of about 100 yards. The last part of the course was a zip line for the participants to get down.

When the group was done with the Odyssey Course, participants were allowed to climb two other rock wall structures. The officers had a great amount of fun at this officer training event and learned many leadership and teamwork skills with the various activities.

Mound City R-2 chapter advisor, Connor Dignan, accompanied the officers to Mozingo.

Malori Davis, left on wire, and Bailee Schueth, right on wire - Are almost finished with the final leg of the Odyssey Course at the Mozingo Outdoor Education Recreation Area (MOERA) ropes course at Mozingo Lake near Maryville, MO, on Monday, June 13. The zip line back down to the ground was the final part of the course during Area I FFA officer training day. Four members of the Mound City R-2 chapter attended the training.

Gabrielle Heck, a Mound City R-2 FFA chapter officer - Hangs upside-down from the zip line to finish the Odyssey Course during an Area I officer training day to build leadership and teamwork skills. The four girls from Mound City that attended had a great time.

Governor Nixon signs bill to aid students and higher education institutions

During a recent stop at the University of Central Missouri (UCM) in Warrensburg, MO, Gov. Jay Nixon signed Senate Bill 997, a higher-education bill that will help more Missouri undergraduates complete their degrees. Among its provisions, the bill will enable more students to take dual-credit courses while they are in high school, make it easier to transfer college credits between public higher education institutions, and require the development of additional policies and pilot programs to encourage degree completion.

Standing with the bill's sponsor, state Sen. David Pearce (R-Warrensburg) and UCM President Chuck Ambrose, Gov. Nixon said the new law strengthens Missouri's leadership in this area.

"Over the last several years, Missouri has become a national leader to enable students to complete their higher education degrees, and this bill helps us continue to lead," Gov. Nixon said. "These provisions are good for students, they're good for our colleges and universities, and they're good for our economy - because education is the best economic development tool there is."

Under Senate Bill 997, the Coordinating Board for Higher Education will work with Missouri's public colleges and universities to develop a 42-credit-hour block of foundational courses that can be transferred to any other public higher education institution in the state. This will help students in getting credit for classes they've already taken, the Governor said.

The bill also creates a scholarship fund to help low-income students take dual-credit courses while they are still in high school, giving them a head start on higher education and saving them money on college costs.

Senate Bill 997 requires the Coordinating Board and public colleges and universities to jointly develop additional policies and pilot programs that assist in degree completion, such as encouraging full-time enrollment and helping students map out a pathway to attaining their degrees. Those policies will include "15 to Finish," which focuses on keeping students on track for a degree by giving them a strong start on taking the needed number of credit hours per semester in order to graduate in four years. UCM is already a leader in the area of degree completion, offering "15 to Finish" scholarships since 2013.

Senate Bill 997 is only one of the achievements made for public higher education and students through Gov. Nixon's leadership. The Show-Me State has led the nation in holding down tuition increases for in-state students at Missouri's public universities over the past seven years, and an agreement between Gov. Nixon and college and universities will keep tuition flat again for the next 2016-2017 school year. That affordability has resulted in a 36 percent increase in the number of Missouri students - some 50,000 - earning a higher education degree since Gov. Nixon took office.

In 2015, the General Assembly followed the Governor's recommendation by passing the most significant state bonding investment in higher education in more than 20 years. The "Building Affordability" initiative is putting more than $200 million in building projects on college campuses throughout the state.

Since 2009, funding for scholarship programs has increased, including, for Fiscal Year 2017, an additional $4 million for Access Missouri, an additional $2.5 million for A+ Scholarships, and an additional $500,000 for Bright Flight. Missouri's A+ programs also has expanded by more than 250 high schools to become available in more than 99 percent of public high schools in the state; and strategic initiatives such as Caring for Missourians, MoHeathWINS and MoManufacturingWINS have produced more graduates to help meet the ongoing need for skilled professionals in high-paying and fast-growing career fields.

Midwest Corn lawsuit informational town hall in Mound City

MidwestCornLawsuit.com will be hosting an informational town hall meeting in Mound City on Tuesday, June 28, at 12 p.m. (noon), at Quackers Bar & Grill, 1012 State Street. The attorney hosting the meeting will cover the litigation against Syngenta Ag. All corn growers in the area are encouraged to attend.

Media interested in talking to one of the attorneys about the litigation for background can email Matt at matt@jefflinklaw.com to schedule an interview.

In 2009 Syngenta released a new strain of corn seed into the United States market before receiving import approval from China. Without import approval for this strain, known as Agrisure Viptera, China rejected U.S. corn shipments in 2013 and 2014, causing global collapse in U.S. corn prices. The export market disruptions with China cost U.S. farmers billions of dollars.

All U.S. corn growers, regardless of whether or not they planted Syngenta seed, were impacted by this market disruption. In addition to individual farmers, landlords, elevators, transporters and others in the supply chain may be able to file a claim in order to be made whole by Syngenta. Over 45,000 corn farmers across the United States have already filed suit, as have large agricultural companies including Cargill and Archer Daniels Midland.

Hummingbirds will be back

The ruby-throated hummingbird with blurred wingbeats and the ability to hover in the air is a fascinating visitor to flower gardens and home bird feeders, but each summer they seem to mysteriously vanish from some yards. They will return, says Larry Rizzo, Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) natural history biologist.

"Many people see ruby-throated hummingbirds in spring when they are migrating," Rizzo said. "Even more common is seeing them at feeders from late July through late September when young are fledged and joining the population and fall migration gets underway, so birds from the north move in. During the height of nesting season, however, from mid-May through late July, the birds are often scarce and not visiting feeders. It's just an indication you don't have nesting hummingbirds close by."

The ruby-throated hummingbird - Seems to have vanished from yards recently, but should be back by the end of August for fall migration.

If weeks have gone by without a hummingbird sighting, Rizzo recommends taking the feeder down for now. Hummingbird feeders should go back up by mid-July. "Birds will reappear by the first of August," Rizzo said.

A reminder, creating hummingbird "nectar" for a feeder requires four to five parts water to one part sugar. Heat the mixture until the sugar dissolves into solution. Do not use or add a red dye to the nectar.

In late summer and fall, keep an eye out for Rufous hummingbirds that are sometimes seen migrating through western Missouri from July through November. Anna's hummingbirds and a few other western species sometimes migrate through Missouri, too. Hummingbird feeders can be kept up into late autumn to provide food for any late-migrating or unusual species.

For more information on ruby-throated hummingbirds, visit <http://short.mdc.mo.gov/ZLL>.

Missouri Moves Cost Share Program to assist communities

The Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT) is seeking projects that could be funded through the new Missouri Moves Cost Share Program.

The Missouri Moves Cost Share Program provides financial assistance to public and private applicants for state and local projects satisfying a transportation need. MoDOT will fund this new program with a General Revenue appropriation from the General Assembly.

Eligible projects include roads, bridges and multimodal facilities. MoDOT will participate up to 50 percent of the total project cost.

Projects will be selected based on the following criteria: Project Category - Safety, Preservation (Taking Care of the System) and System Expansion state system project; applicant's level of participation; applicant's source of matching funds; and current project status (ready to advertise for construction bids, design plans in place, etc).

Missouri Moves Cost Share Program guidelines, application and rating matrix are available on MoDOT's website at www.modot.org/missourimoves. Applications are due Friday, July 29, 2016.

Meeting planned to provide input into federal conservation programs

A local working group charged with identifying local priority resource concerns and providing input about program criteria to the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) will meet at 9 a.m. on Thursday, June 30, at the University of Missouri (MU) Extension Office, 201 E. US Highway 136, in Rock Port, MO.

The working group is comprised primarily of representatives of various local, state, and federal agencies with knowledge of natural resource concerns. Specifically, the group will help prioritize selection criteria for NRCS' Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) and Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP) applications in Atchison and Holt counties.

The meeting is open to the public and will include time for comments from residents of the represented counties. While final decisions will be made by NRCS leadership, local input is requested. Anyone needing accommodations to participate in this meeting should contact Chris Rader at chris.rader@mo.usda.gov seven days prior to the meeting.

For more information, contact Chris Rader at 660-442-3173, Ext. 3; or chris.rader@mo.usda.gov.

“They kept me educated. As a teacher, that was helpful.”

Cindy Sons, a preschool director, had been living with constant knee pain and was unable to get up and down with the kids. When it became time for knee replacement surgery, she knew just where to go - SSM Health St. Francis Hospital.

“The doctor did a great job explaining things to me,” she says, “And the nurses talked me through what was going to happen, like teachers.”

The results were everything Cindy had hoped for. So much so, she recently had her other knee replaced. As she puts it, “I was confident this group of people would take excellent care of me again.”
