Enrollment remains steady in area schools

The 2015-2016 school year has begun for the four area schools. Enrollment numbers are coming in with a slight increase at two schools and a small decrease in the other two schools.

Mound City R-2 reports its numbers differently than the other schools because of its middle school classification of grades five through eight. The numbers at Mound City show 18 preschoolers, 100 in kindergarten through fourth grade, 91 in middle school and 71 in high school for a total of 280 students enrolled. That is an increase from last year’s 277 at the beginning of the 2014-2015 term.

South Holt R-1 enrollment also shows an increase over last year’s numbers. Preschool enrolled 24 students, kindergarten through sixth grade has 165 students, junior high has 35 students and there are 65 students in high school for a total of 289 over last year’s 273.

Nodaway-Holt R-7 slipped three in the 2015-2016 enrollment numbers. There are 119 in kindergarten through sixth grade, 33 in junior high and 75 in high school for a total of 227 students compared to 230 last year. There were lower numbers in the elementary and junior high, with an increase of seven students in the high school. Nodaway-Holt R-7 does not have a preschool.

Craig R-3 numbers dipped slightly with 70 enrolled this year, compared to 72 last year. The elementary has 37 students, junior high has 11 students and high school has 24 students. There is no preschool at Craig R-3.

Tax rates set at area schools

The Board of Education at each of the four schools in Holt County has recently set the tax levy rate for its school. The rate is figured per $100 assessed valuation. The tax rates are:

School	2015-16 rate	2014-15 rate
Mound City R-2	$4.1733	$4.1652
South Holt R-1	$3.7641	$3.7494
Nodaway-Holt R-7	$4.3068	$4.4182
Craig R-3	$4.5000	$4.7300

Letter to the editor

Dear editor:
It is time to spiff up for Market Square Day! As Labor Day and the Market Square Day event approaches on Monday, September 7, the women of Beta Sigma Phi sorority want to thank, in advance, the wonderful people of this community for their part in making this day successful. The local law enforcement and city crews, are, as always, so vital and their assistance is appreciated. The sorority asks folks to help keep the streets free of parked cars beginning Sunday evening, September 6, when vendors will start setting up. Once again, Mound City will be abuzz with activity. The sorority is urging the downtown businesses to act like company is coming and tidy up a bit.

During the Market Square Day event, State Street will be closed from 5th Street to 7th Street.

Over 70 vendors have indicated they are coming to set up booths in anticipation of a great day. The sorority is very grateful to the local vendors who use this day as a moneymaking event. The participation and enthusiasm help to keep sorority members optimistic every year. This makes the 39th year that Beta Sigma Phi has sponsored this event.

Everyone is urged to come to town, visit with friends and neighbors, have breakfast with the Lions Club and lunch with one of the many vendors available.

The Xi Eta Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority uses the booth rental fees collected to do extensive advertising for this event and remaining proceeds are returned to the community in many different ways. The most popular project is providing scholarship money each spring to two seniors from Mound City R-2 to help with their continuing education.

Mound City Friends of the Library book sale at Market Square Day

Get in on the fun at the Friends of the Mound City Library's Book Booth at Market Square Day on Monday, Sept. 7. The Book Booth will be set up on the south side of Rose Petals, on 5th Street. Organized and staffed by Friends, the sale features duplicates and older books culled from the library to make room for new books. There will also be hundreds of donated books, DVDs, CDs, tapes and vinyl records.

A pre-sale will be open only to members of the Friends group who help set up at 7 p.m. Sunday, September 6. Annual membership fees are just $10 for individuals and $25 for a family, so in order to get in on the early shopping, pay the dues at the library or at the booth. All membership fees are due because the new fiscal year started July 1.

The Friends group also can use help at the sale that starts Monday morning at 8 a.m. and continues until 2 p.m., if everything isn't sold before then. There is a work sign-up sheet at the library, or stop by the booth Monday to give one of the other workers a break. It is more fun than work, especially if many friends help.

All proceeds from book sales and other fund-raising events held by the Friends are used for library activities and improvements.

Two employees celebrate 30 years of service

Robin Rayhill of Mound City, and Carol Sisk of Forest City, MO, work in different departments at Tiffany Heights Care Center in Mound City; but the two women have something in common. Robin and Carol began working at Tiffany Heights in 1985. For 30 years, they have passed in the halls, shared the lunchroom, served the same residents and punched the same time clock.

Robin Rayhill began at Tiffany Heights as a nurses' aide, moving into a Certified Medication Technician (CMT) position. After completing her schooling, Robin became a charge nurse, working nights, and then moving to the day shift. For the past 20 years, she has been the Assistant Director of Nursing (DON), working under several DON's over the years.

When asked about her work at Tiffany Heights, Robin replied, "I don't know that geriatrics is for everybody." It takes special people to deal with the day to day lives of residents. Attachments and loss become possibilities each day. "I grew up in an older family situation and have learned to cope with aging issues," added Robin.

Robin and her mother, Bae Rayhill, live together. Robin enjoys the time she has spent with her mother. She anticipates working for years to come at Tiffany Heights.

Carol Sisk started her career at Tiffany Heights splitting her time between housekeeping and laundry, two days a week in each department. After five years, she moved to the laundry department full-time. Five years later, Carol became the housekeeping supervisor for 10 years. Five years ago, she decided it was time to retire. After three months, Carol decided retirement was not for her and returned to Tiffany Heights in the housekeeping department. With a smile, Carol says, "I have always enjoyed working at Tiffany Heights. I suppose I will work here until I can't." Carol added, "I have never not wanted to go to work here at Tiffany Heights."

Carol and her husband, Gerald Ben, have three children, Spencer and Bradley Sisk and Rachel Williams; and seven grandchildren.

Tiffany Heights administrator, Tammy Yocum, has worked with both women for 20 years. "It has been my great pleasure to work with Robin and Carol. All employees at Tiffany Heights are a great asset to the facility and the community."

Rep. Allen Andrews

To honor and recognize the efforts of Rep. Allen Andrews, Republican - Grant City, MO, for his work this year in advocating and supporting agriculture, Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives Todd Richardson awarded him the Freshman Legislator of the Year Award for Agriculture.

"Agriculture remains the top industry in Missouri and Representative Andrews has distinguished himself as a leader on complicated agriculture policy. In just one short legislative session Allen has worked on several of the top pieces of agriculture legislation, including some that were passed and sent to the Governor. I am looking forward to working with Representative Andrews in the coming years as we work to protect a vital industry and major employer in Missouri," said Speaker Richardson.

Director of Agriculture Richard Fordyce stated, "The department appreciates support from legislators like Representative Andrews. As Missouri's number one industry, agriculture is key to the state's economic vitality and moving key issues forward is very helpful in advancing agriculture."

Two-vehicle accident leaves one with minor injuries

The Missouri State Highway Patrol investigated a two-vehicle accident in Holt County on Tuesday, August 18, at 6:25 p.m. at the 76.4 mile marker of northbound I-29, approximately 8 miles southeast of Mound City. Douglas E. Bry, 51, of Grand Forks, ND, was driving a 2007 Chevrolet Suburban pulling a 16-foot enclosed utility trailer. His passenger was Quinn R. Bachmeier, 51, of Fargo, ND. Anne K. Shepard, 69, of Atchison, KS, was driving a 2008 Chevrolet Impala. Her passengers were Helen K. Mueting, 67, and Barbara D. Smith, 53, both of Atchison, KS.

The accident occurred as Bry’s Suburban was northbound in the passing lane of I-29, slowly passing Shepard’s Impala that was in the driving lane. The Impala suddenly moved toward the passing lane and stopped to turn left into a median crossover. To avoid collision, the Suburban swerved to the left and sideswiped the Impala. The Suburban then continued north into the grass median for approximately 1/4 mile before coming to rest upright on the inside shoulder of the northbound lanes of I-29. A third vehicle, a tractor-trailer that had been following the Suburban in the driving lane, swerved onto the right shoulder to avoid collision.

The Suburban was driven from the scene with minor damage. The trailer pulled by the Suburban was towed to Mound City by Double D Towing of Mound City. The Impala received extensive damage and was towed by Double D Towing.

Sgt. K.G. Haywood, Sr., of the Missouri State Highway Patrol was assisted by Cpl. R.J. Helfers, the Holt County Sheriff and Atchison-Holt Ambulance in the investigation of the accident. The driver of the Impala, Anne K. Shepard, was taken to SSM Health Care, Maryville, MO, by private vehicle with minor injuries. No other injuries were reported. All those involved were wearing seat belts.

The clown, left, visited the residents at Tiffany Heights Care Center in Mound City and giggled with resident Mary Lou Nauman, right.

Velma Kunkel, left, a resident at Tiffany Heights Care Center - In Mound City, enjoyed a visit from the Culpepper and Merriweather Circus clown, right, that came to Mound City on Monday, August 24. The clown was promoting the circus that is coming to Mound City on Monday, August 31.

News from Tiffany Heights

Residents are still enjoying the summer at Tiffany Heights in Mound City and made another summer craft on Monday afternoon, August 17. During this session, they made a plant poke. The poke resembled a daisy and each had a smiling face. Fall might be closer than everyone thinks. Shirley Jackson and Debbie Friend assisted with the crafts. Everyone enjoyed sugar cookies provided by Shirley after the craft.

Pastor Brown led the Bible group on Tuesday morning. Dee Ann Heck assisted and played piano. During the afternoon, residents discussed several memories that reminded them of summer. They then went on a vacation destination to Hawaii. Residents were asked several questions about this summer hot spot. They discussed the most popular food there which is Spam.

Dorothy Sommer and Lilian Brickley both achieved their five mile certificate during this week's Walk and Roll Program. On Wednesday afternoon, residents enjoyed an afternoon with brain power. They played Name Game and chose the words "sneak some zucchini night". This of course happens during the month. Residents were able to make 240 different words with these

Dee Ann Heck provided piano before lunch on Thursday. Birthday bingo was held during the afternoon. Tuesday Club members served as the hostesses. Everyone enjoyed playing bingo with the group and especially enjoyed the home-made cookies. Those residents having birthdays in August received beautiful flowers. Those residents were Delores Howard and Carol Ball. Winners of the bingo game were Betty Elder and Irmilea Meadows. Members for the Tuesday Club group assisting were Phyllis Parker, Judith Long, Sandra Fuhrman, Barb Heitman, Linda Boultinghouse, Linda Creed, Kay Sitherwood and Sheri Meadows. Additional volunteers were Gordon Robbins, Shirley Jackson, Debbie Friend, Denise Acklin and Lucille Stull.

Glamour nails were conducted on Friday morning. Sue Roseman provided a prayer group also during the morning. Games of choice were encouraged during the afternoon on Saturday.

Karma and Bill Metzgar offered communion on Sunday morning. Seth Henson provided Sunday morning services. Pastor Brown led the Sunday afternoon service.

MISSOURI STATE TOURNAMENT
COLUMBIA, 1963

REMEMBER THE BOWLING TEAMS?
This team of Rosie Brickey, Ruby Walker, Sara Blodgett, Rachel Smith and Norma McCurry bowled in the Missouri State Tournament in Columbia, MO, in 1963! A news item, 16 May 1963, in the society's booklet, "Bits and Pieces of Mound City", tells that Mr. and Mrs. George Cummings leased the Mound City VFW building for ten years to open G&L Bowling. The air-conditioned structure offered six alleys, new pin setters and provided bowling for the vicinity! In 1969, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cardinell purchased G&L Bowling and changed the name to "Lesur Lanes". Ladies' league was one evening; mixed doubles on another; with lanes available for open bowling. Many teams were formed with area businesses as sponsors. The photo was donated to the Holt County Historical Society by Norma Jean McCurry.

This Week's History

From the Mound City News archives

50 Years Ago - 1965

• A familiar face in Mound City’s post office had been missed by all recently. Clyde Gilbert had retired after completing 34 years and four months of service as a postal employee, 28 years of which had been in Mound City.

• An estimated $50 to $60 in damage had been done by vandals recently to facilities in the Mound City Golf Association clubhouse. Some of the costly work of the vandals included: breaking a lock on the refrigerator door and helping themselves to pop therein; ruining a couple of pop machines; and putting rocks in the toilet stool.

• Members of the Mound City R-II Board of Education were: Bob Crouse, president; Dean Johnson, vice-president; Elizabeth McCormack, secretary; William Knowles, James Crawford, Irvin Heck and Dr. Maurice Williams.

• Most areas of Holt County were extremely friendly to the bond issue proposition to determine if a new courthouse should be constructed in Oregon. The total unofficial tally showed that 1,394 favored the plan, to 601 who did not.

25 Years Ago - 1990

• Adding full-time ambulance dispatchers at a yearly cost of about $60,000, contracting for private dispatch service, and erecting new and expensive radio equipment were options being considered for emergency ambulance service. Fairfax Community Hospital in June said it no longer would handle dispatching for the Atchison-Holt Ambulance District.

• Jack Wilson had been promoted to Production Superintendent and Terry Anderson to Quality Control Manager at Schuylkill Metals Corporation, Canon Hollow Branch.

• Mr. and Mrs. Doug Livengood and family traveled to Platte City to attend the Platte City Steam Engine Show. Their son, Kyle, won first place in the 5 to 6 year-old age group in the Pedal Power Tractor Pull.

• Seventeen ladies participated in the club tournament at the Mound City Golf Club. Pat Smith took top honors with a net 89 to win the club championship. Judy Munro was second with a 92 and Sue Neff placed third in the first flight with a 95.

10 Years Ago - 2005

• A vehicle rammed into the south side of the Dollar General Store in Mound City, then left the scene – police were still looking for the driver.

• South Holt had eight new staff members: Carrie Campbell, Paula Luna, Anne Cook, Dan Dreesen, Wendy Ezell, Cindy Delp, Sharon Bannon and Brad Johnson.

• The Maitland Fire Department had some new gear thanks to a grant from the Missouri Department of Conservation Forestry Division.

• Except for Nodaway-Holt, enrollment at area schools was generally down – from just a few students to more than 30. Beginning of the year enrollments were: Nodaway Holt, 264; Mound City, 259; Craig, 119; and South Holt, 306.

• Christian Fellowship Church, in Mound City, was to celebrate its 25th anniversary with special events in early September.

• Three new teachers were on the staff at Nodaway-Holt: Dan Ferguson, Amy Gardner and Misty Barton.

Conservation Commission approves changes to 2016-2017 deer regulations

The Missouri Conservation Commission set season dates and limits for the 2016-2017 fall deer season and gave initial approval to several deer-hunting regulation changes proposed by the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) at the commission’s Aug. 19 meeting in Jefferson City. Approved changes to fall deer season structure for 2016-2017 include:

- Maintain current timing of the November portion and reduce the length from 11 to 9 days.
- Expand the late youth portion to three days beginning the first Friday after Thanksgiving.
- Reduce the length of the antlerless portion from 12 to 3 days and begin on the first Friday in December.
- Eliminate the urban zones portion.

Proposed regulation changes to fall deer season structure for 2016-2017 include:

- Allow crossbows as a legal method during the archery deer and turkey seasons.
- Allow the use of crossbows during the fall firearms turkey season.
- Reduce the limit of antlered deer from 3 to 2 during the combined archery and firearms deer hunting season, with no more than one antlered deer taken during the firearms deer hunting season.
- Remove the hunting method exemption requirement related to crossbows.

Missouri’s rule-making process includes a 30-day public comment period. Comments related to the proposed regulation changes can be submitted online to the Conservation Department from Oct. 2-31 at mdc.mo.gov/node/24141. Full verbiage of the proposed amendments will be posted on the web page after Sept. 15.

The commission will make its final decision on these proposed changes at its December meeting. With final approval, the regulation changes would become effective in March 2016 and implemented for the 2016-2017 deer hunting seasons.

The department is also working to simplify conservation area deer-hunting regulations by limiting methods and use of firearms and archery antlerless permits. To see the list of conservation areas with proposed changes to hunting methods and to provide comments, visit the MDC website at mdc.mo.gov/node/18891 from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30. The web page will not be available until Sept. 1.

The department will also continue to gather input from citizens on a variety of deer hunting-related topics, including nonresident permits and prices, through public surveys and its website in early 2016.

When formulating recommendations for these regulation changes, the conservation department used deer hunter surveys, landowner surveys, archery-hunter observation surveys, deer population simulations, biological data, harvest summaries, and public input gathered from 22 public open houses held around the state and about 11,800 public comments received at the public meetings and online.

“The goal of the conservation department’s deer management program is to use science-based wildlife management combined with public input to maintain deer population levels throughout the state that provide quality recreational opportunities while minimizing human-deer conflicts,” said MDC Deer Biologist Jason Sumners. “As deer populations in Missouri have changed over the last 75 years, so have our management strategies. In modifying the hunting season structure, our aim is to achieve a deer population that is biologically and socially acceptable while also promoting hunter participation, recruitment, and retention.”

Missouri offers some of the best deer hunting in the country, and deer hunting is an important part of many Missourians’ lives and family traditions. Deer hunting is also an important economic driver in Missouri and gives a $1 billion annual boost to the state and local economies.

2016-2017 DEER HUNTING SEASON DATES

Archery Season

- Sept. 15 - Nov. 11, 2016, and
- Nov. 21, 2016 - Jan. 15, 2017

Firearms Season

- Early Youth Portion: Oct. 29 - 30, 2016
- November Portion: Nov. 12 - 20, 2016
- Late Youth Portion: Nov. 25 - 27, 2016
- Antlerless Portion: Dec. 2 - 4, 2016
- Alternative Methods Portion: Dec. 24, 2016 - Jan. 3, 2017

REASONS FOR REGULATION CHANGES

Reducing November portion length

Regarding maintaining the current timing of the November portion and reducing the length to nine days, MDC Deer Biologist Jason Sumners explained that over the last two decades deer hunter numbers and deer harvest opportunities have increased substantially while the deer population has stabilized or been reduced in many parts of Missouri so additional harvest opportunities are no longer necessary to meet desired deer population goals.

“The final two days of the November portion of the firearms deer season have traditionally been the two days with the lowest hunter harvest and number of hunting trips,” said Sumners. “Reducing the November portion by two days will not result in a dramatic decrease in harvest or hunting opportunities. This one regulatory component, when combined with other changes, will help to stabilize and increase deer populations in some areas.”

Expanding late youth season

Sumners explained that the current late December or early January timing of the late youth portion has resulted in low participation and low success. Expanding the length to three days and adjusting the timing to the weekend after Thanksgiving should increase participation and success as a result of better deer activity and weather conditions in late November compared to the current timing.

“Hunter recruitment and retention is an important component in maintaining Missouri’s hunting heritage and our ability to manage deer populations in the future,” Sumners said.

Reducing length of antlerless portion

Regarding reducing the length of the antlerless portion to three days and beginning on the first Friday in December, Sumners explained that the deer population in most of Missouri is currently at or below population goals so the additional antlerless-harvest opportunities are no longer necessary to meet desired deer population goals.

“Shortening the antlerless portion is a compromise to maintain some additional hunting opportunities and allow for additional antlerless harvest where necessary,” Sumners said. “The increase in the number of deer hunting days over the last two decades as a result of the creation of early and late youth portions, and the expansion of November, antlerless, and alternative methods portions has created conflicts between deer hunters and other outdoor users such as small game hunters. Therefore, the reduction is a compromise that is acceptable to most firearms deer hunters and will reduce conflicts that occur between deer hunters and other outdoor users due to the length of the current deer hunting seasons.”

Eliminating urban zones

Sumners explained that eliminating the urban zones portion will simplify the deer season structure and will not jeopardize progress towards effective urban deer management that has occurred in many communities across the state.

“The urban zones portion was implemented as one tool to address issues associated with overabundant urban deer populations,” Sumners said. “However, additional firearms hunting opportunities in urban zones do little to manage deer populations where the ability to use firearms is limited. The majority of harvest during the urban zones portion occurs in the most rural areas and does not ensure adequate deer harvest in the locations where urban deer conflicts occur.”

Allowing crossbows during archery season

Sumners explained that allowing crossbows as a legal method during the archery deer and turkey season will provide additional opportunities for young hunters and prolong participation for older hunters while not significantly increasing the harvest.

“Physical limitations of young hunters delay their entry into archery hunting and physical limitations of older archery hunters result in their declining participation,” Sumners said. “Our challenge is to balance contrasting hunter opinions with the desire to provide maximum hunting opportunities while also responsibly managing Missouri’s deer population. We have received an increasing number of requests to expand the archery season to include crossbows. We expect that the inclusion of crossbows will increase the harvest during the archery season, but do not expect it to result in a significant increase in total deer harvest.”

Allowing crossbows during fall turkey firearms

Sumners explained that allowing the use of crossbows during the fall firearms turkey season would be consistent with method allowances for other firearms hunting seasons and spring turkey season.

“The department has tended to allow all lesser hunting methods during firearms hunting seasons so it is natural to allow crossbows during the fall firearms turkey season,” Sumners said.

Reducing antlered deer limit

Sumners explained that reducing the antlered deer limit stems from an increasing desire of hunters to see more bucks in older age classes.

“We considered a number of regulation changes, including pushing back the opening of the November portion of the firearms season and limiting hunters to one buck during the combined archery and firearms hunting season,” Sumners said. “However, results from our archery and firearms hunter surveys showed little support for those changes. Therefore, reducing the limit for antlered deer from three to two during the combined archery and firearms deer hunting season, with no more than one antlered deer taken during the firearms deer hunting season, is supported by many hunters, and a step in the right direction.”

Removing hunting method exemption related to crossbows

Sumners explained that allowing crossbows during archery seasons will make the crossbow medical exemption no longer necessary.

Simplifying area regulations

Sumners explained that simplifying various conservation area regulations by limiting methods and use of firearms and archery antlerless permits would both increase hunter satisfaction and give area managers the ability to adjust regulations to adapt to current deer population conditions.

“We continue to strive to manage deer numbers at desirable levels while providing diverse deer hunting opportunities for the public,” Sumners said. “The current set of deer hunting options on conservation areas can be confusing and do not allow managers to adapt regulations to changing deer populations. As a result, deer hunters on public land generally have lower success rates, perceive lower deer numbers, and tend to rate their hunting experiences lower than hunters on private land.”

Missouri Department of Conservation announces waterfowl seasons and outlook

Duck numbers are high, but limited food and cover and warm weather may limit availability

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) announces that duck hunters will again have a 60-day season for 2015-2016 hunting. The Missouri Conservation Commission set upcoming Missouri waterfowl hunting seasons at its Aug. 19 meeting.

DUCK SEASONS:

North Zone: Oct. 31 – Dec. 29
Middle Zone: Nov. 7 – Jan. 5
South Zone: Nov. 26 – Jan. 24
Shooting Hours: One-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Daily Bag Limit: Six ducks daily with species restrictions of:

- 4 mallards (no more than 2 females)
- 3 scaup
- 3 wood ducks
- 2 redheads
- 2 hooded mergansers
- 2 pintails
- 2 canvasback (increased from 1 last year)
- 1 black duck
- 1 mottled duck

Possession Limit: Three times the daily bag limit (18), including species restrictions.

COOT SEASONS:

Concurrent with duck seasons in the respective zones with a daily bag limit of 15 and a possession limit of 45.

GOOSE SEASONS:

Light geese: snow, blue, and Ross's: Statewide, Oct. 31 - Jan. 31

White-fronted geese: Statewide Nov. 7 - Jan. 31

Canada geese and brant: Statewide Oct. 3 - Oct. 11 and Nov. 26 - Jan. 31

Shooting Hours: One-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Daily Bag Limit and Possession Limit: No more than three Canada geese and brant geese in aggregate daily and nine in possession, 20 light geese (snow, blue, or Ross's) daily with no possession limit, and two white-fronted geese daily and six in possession.

YOUTH HUNTING DAYS:

North Zone: Oct. 24 and 25
Middle Zone: Oct. 31 and Nov. 1
South Zone: Nov. 21 and 22

Bag Limit: Same as during regular waterfowl season.

Shooting Hours: Same as during regular waterfowl season.

Participation Requirements: Any person 15 years of age or younger may participate in the youth waterfowl hunting days without permit, provided they are in the immediate presence of an adult 18 years of age or older. If the youth hunter does not have hunter-education certification, the adult must meet permit requirements for small-game hunting and have in his or her possession valid hunter-education certification unless born before Jan. 1, 1967. The adult may not hunt ducks, but may participate in other seasons open on the youth days.

LIGHT GOOSE CONSERVATION ORDER:

The Conservation Order for light geese will be in effect Feb. 1 through April 30 with no bag limit. Hunters may use electronic calls and unplugged shot guns. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. A Conservation Order permit is the only permit required for resident and nonresident hunters.

FALCONRY SEASON FOR DUCKS, COOTS AND MERGANSERS:

The federal framework allows 107 days. Falconry is open during teal season (16 days), regular duck season (60 days), and youth season (two days) in the respective zones, leaving Feb. 11 – March 10 (29 days) for extended falconry statewide.

Hunting Hours: One-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Bag and Possession Limits: The daily bag and possession limits shall not exceed three and nine birds, respectively, singly, or in the aggregate, during the teal, regular duck, youth waterfowl and extended falconry seasons.

TEAL SEASONS:

As previously announced by MDC in July, blue-winged, green-winged, and cinnamon teal may be taken from Sept 12 through Sept. 27 from sunrise to sunset with a combined daily limit of six and a combined possession limit of 18 for all three species. Additional details are published in MDC's 2015 Migratory Bird Hunting Digest available where hunting permits are sold, at MDC offices and nature centers, and online at mdc.mo.gov.

WATERFOWL POPULATION ESTIMATES:

According to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the total number of North American ducks is estimated to be at a record high for the fourth year in a row at 49.5 million, 43% above the long-term average (LTA). Estimates of breeding populations for various duck species from 2015 survey results are:

- Mallard numbers are similar to the 2014 estimate and 42 percent above their long-term average.
- Blue-winged teal numbers are similar to 2014 and 73 percent above their long-term average.
- Green-winged teal numbers increased by 19 percent, which puts them 98 percent above their long-term average.
- Northern shoveler numbers dropped by 17 percent but still remain 75 percent above their long-term average.
- Gadwall and American wigeon numbers are similar to 2014 and 100 and 17 percent above their long-term averages, respectively.
- Redhead numbers are similar to 2014 and 71 percent above their long-term average.

- Canvasback numbers increased slightly. They are now estimated to be 30 percent above their long-term average.
- Scaup numbers are similar to the 2014 estimate and 13 percent below their long-term average.
- Pintail numbers are similar to 2014 and 24 percent below their long-term average.

HUNTING OUTLOOK:

MDC Resource Scientists note that there are three factors equally or more important than overall population numbers in contributing toward a season's outcome: local habitat conditions, weather, and migration timing. They caution that preseason outlooks for habitat and weather are less than ideal.

"Wetlands should have plenty of water going into fall, but extensive and repeated flooding over the summer will mean food and cover could be patchy," explained MDC Resource Scientist Andy Raedeke. "Moist-soil seed production will be excellent in wetlands that benefitted from a wet spring and early summer but did not have late-summer flooding. Those that did experience late flooding will likely have poor moist-soil seed production and limited vegetation for cover. Due to flooding, food provided by crops, such as corn, will likely be well below average."

Raedeke added that weather conditions play a significant role in affecting duck movements and distribution. "Long-term weather forecasts are calling for milder than normal fall and winter weather in the upper Midwest," he said.

Habitat conditions and weather combine to influence waterfowl migrations.

"The primary uncertainty is how ducks will respond if we have a hunting season with mild weather, plenty of water, and below average food and cover," said Raedeke. "In the absence of significant cold fronts, ducks may disperse throughout the Mississippi Flyway resulting in lower peak numbers in Missouri. Once ducks arrive in Missouri, habitat conditions will influence how long they stay. Species that depend entirely on wetland sources of food may depart sooner than normal. For species that also field feed, such as mallards, the combination of ample water for roosting and harvested grain fields for feeding may help offset effects of below average wetland conditions."

Raedeke added that hunters will need to be flexible in when and where they hunt. "If it is a mild fall, it will be especially important to time hunts with cold fronts and migration events. Hunters should also be willing to try new locations for potentially better habitat conditions," he said.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Additional details about waterfowl hunting regulations, including zone descriptions, will be published in the MDC 2015-2016 Waterfowl Hunting Digest, available starting in late September from permit vendors, MDC offices and nature center, and online at mdc.mo.gov.

Richards sisters receive gold at FCCLA National Leadership Conference

Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) brought more than 7,700 of its student leaders, members and advisers to the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in Washington, D.C., July 6-9, to participate in its National Leadership Conference. Those attending from Oregon, MO's, South Holt R-I were eighth graders Sophia Richards and Olivia Richards, South Holt FCCLA advisor Leandra Buckles and Makynlee Buckles.

The conference provided opportunities for students and advisers to come together for fun and to listen to inspiring speakers, as well as to expand leadership skills, sharpen talents and explore career pathways. The theme of this year's conference was "Together We Are Healthy" and attendees were challenged to explore the fitness of body, mind and spirit that is a product of healthy attitudes and habits; and to pursue this whole health through the conference's great learning and networking opportunities.

In addition to the many learning and networking experiences offered at the conference, more than 30 Family and Consumer Sciences related events, also known as STAR (Students Taking Action with Recognition) events were offered, with 4,000 event participants.

Sophia and Olivia competed in STAR events in the Illustrated Talk division. The name of their presentation was Meant To Be and covered the topics of domestic and international adoption. They received a gold in their category with a score of 98.3 out of 100. This was the highest score given in their division and region.

Sophia Richards, left, and Olivia Richards, right - Traveled to Washington, D.C., July 6-9, to attend the Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) National Leadership Conference. The two eighth graders from South Holt R-I in Oregon, MO, received gold medals for their STAR Events illustrated talk.

The students were able to do some sightseeing during the conference including a double decker bus ride to see the monuments, visiting the Smithsonian Museum and White House. They also traveled to Georgetown University for a cupcake tour and Maryland to the harbor.

Another highlight of the conference was a youth rally held on Capitol Hill for the dual purpose of celebrating FCCLA's 70th anniversary and advocating for strong Family and Consumer Sciences (FACS) education in schools. Themed, "70 Years Strong," the event drew more than 3,000 FCCLA members and bathed the Capitol grounds in a sea of FCCLA red. There the members participated in a dance for the "Let's Move" initiative, so they "danced on Capitol Hill."

Sophia and Olivia are the daughters of Bill and Kitty Richards of Oregon, MO.

The Panther PAWS are pounding the pavement

The bright gold Panther paws are once again pouncing up the street from State Street to the Panther football field in Mound City, thanks to a group of nearly 40 volunteers. The enthusiastic group met at 3 p.m. on Sunday, August 23, and by 4:30 p.m., 88 Panthers paws had been painted on two blocks of 7th Street and on Nebraska Street from the Mound City R-2 school to the football field.

“Panther fans are amazing,” stated Bev Shifflett, one of the organizers of the event. “We are blessed to live in a small town where one of the major streets can be shut down for an afternoon to paint paw prints.”

Kelly Graves of the Mound City Street Department and Corey McDonald of the Mound City Police Department were on hand to ensure the safety of the volunteers.

The Panther paw painters - Had quite a system going, moving up Nebraska Street at a fast pace on Sunday, August 23. Eighty-eight paws were painted by 40 volunteers in a short amount of time, 1.5 hours. Pictured with one of the stencils are, left to right, Dana Zembles, Lane Zembles, Chris Zembles’ legs, Emma Russell and Keaton Zembles.

Mound City falls in close fought season opener

The Mound City Panthers of Mound City and Craig, MO, hosted the East Atchison Wolves from Tarkio and Fairfax, MO, on Friday, August 21, at Ceglenski Field in Mound City. The season opener brought a large crowd of fans from both teams with perfect weather for watching and playing a football game.

The scoring went back and forth throughout the game, with the difference in the score resulting from a missed 2-point conversion in the first quarter by the Panthers. The Panthers made the first touchdown of the game but East Atchison answered with a touchdown and 2-point conversion a short time later. Late in the second half, Panther quarterback, Jaden Gillenwater, went out of the game with severe leg cramps. Ben Shifflett took over the offensive leadership through the end of the game. A fourth quarter comeback by the Panthers fell short and the East Atchison Wolves won the game, 38-36.

Mound City Panther Blake Shifflett - Falls to his knees as he caught the football for a Panther touchdown on Friday, August 21, at Ceglenski Field in Mound City. Shifflett caught the ball three times for 43 yards and one touchdown in the Panthers’ loss to East Atchison, 38-36.

Mound City Panther Ben Shifflett - Stepped up in the second half to play quarterback after starting quarterback, Jaden Gillenwater, was injured in the season opener against the East Atchison Wolves of Tarkio and Fairfax, MO, on Friday, August 21, in Mound City. Shifflett threw the ball eight times with five receptions for 59 yards and one touchdown.

Mound City Panthers Jaden Derr (90) and Chandler Monroe (22) - Come off the line to push East Atchison's offensive line back. Derr and Monroe registered eight and seven tackles, respectively, in the books for the Panthers’ season opener on Friday, August 21, in Mound City. The Panthers lost a close one to the Wolves, 38-36.
