Mound City Family Medicine celebrates one year anniversary

On August 4, 2014, Community Hospital-Fairfax (CH-F) welcomed Dustin Carpenter, M.D., to Mound City with the Grand Opening of the Mound City Family Medicine clinic. Dr. Carpenter, a native from Rock Port, MO, returned to Northwest Missouri stating "these were his greener pastures." A year later, on Tuesday, August 4, 2015, Mound City Family Medicine celebrated its anniversary and thanked the community for support with balloons and snow cones at the 514 State Street location.

"Starting a new practice is not without challenges," commented Dr. Carpenter, "but becoming a part of the Mound City community and getting to know these fantastic patients has truly been a blessing to me and my family."

Dr. Carpenter began seeing patients August 4, 2014. Joining him at Mound City Family Medicine are Gail Heitman, RN, Karen Voltmer, LPN, Katie Parman, RN, and Rhonda Ball, receptionist and scheduler. In addition to these staff members, Becky (Foster) Heits, FNP, also treats patients at Mound City Family Medicine. The clinic is open five days a week with providers each day.

Getting involved in the community has been important to Mound City Family Medicine. Providing sports physicals at the schools, sideline coverage when needed, gift cards for senior baskets at Christmas, gifts to the Mound City baby show participants and sponsoring the Rumble at the Refuge are some of the ways Dr. Carpenter and staff have become involved.

In addition to a busy clinic practice, Dr. Carpenter also sees patients at Community Hospital-Fairfax, Tiffany Heights and the Oregon Care Center. At CH-F he serves as the medical director of several departments including the emergency room and cardiopulmonary services, provides calls for the emergency room, delivers babies and serves as an active member of the Medical Staff.

Building a new clinic and hospital practice were significant milestones in Dr. Carpenter's first year of practice, but not as important as the birth of his daughter, Isabella Carpenter, to he and his wife, Annie, in December of 2014. The young family lives in Tarkio, MO.

Community Hospital-Fairfax and Dr. Carpenter are very grateful for the warm reception provided by the Holt County community to Mound City Family Medicine.

"It has been a tremendous first year for Mound City Family Medicine and we are grateful for the fantastic continued support. We continue to pursue new opportunities to extend our outreach and better serve our community" stated Roger Steinkruger, CH-F CEO.

Theresa Jordan provided Bible study on Tuesday morning. During the afternoon, residents enjoyed a word game. They started out with the words Hot Dog. Did you know July is National Hot Dog month? Residents also enjoyed a game where all the answers began with the word "hot". They ended the game with the meaning of slang phrases and their meanings and a few riddles.

Lillian Brickey achieved her four mile certificate and Barbara Deatz claimed her one mile mark this week during the Walk and Roll Program. Wednesday made the hot list and what better way to enjoy an afternoon than with the residents' favorite event, an ice cream social. They enjoyed sundae and visiting during the afternoon.

Remembering

By Eugene Poynter

"Flags" - It's hard for me to believe, even as messed up as we've become, that the Confederate flag, a part of history, can no longer be flown in some places at least, when, not only in foreign countries, the United States flag has been torn down, burnt, flown upside down, trampled on and even desecrated on. Some of the same is being done here in the U.S. and nothing is being done about it. It's kind of what I call the measuring stick of what we've become, world wide. Money can't cure everything, especially when it's being borrowed from some other countries, which don't support the United States. What's happened to us? What kind of flag are we going to end up with? I don't want to even guess. I sure don't want a UN or the New World Order flag.

Along with our flag goes our Christian beliefs. How easy it was during WW2 to just have the three types (if you want to call it that) - Protestant, Catholic and Jewish. One of the three was stamped on your dog tags (ID). Now with so many religions and them so rapidly changing, no wonder there is a different type of ID. Do you remember what percentage of Americans in 1941 were living in a religious home? A staggering 95%. Gradually it has drastically changed, and we don't seem to care; building churches anywhere one wants, it seems like, as long as they have a cross on them. One group has been pushing and has succeeded in a few places to remove crosses and religious symbols. I've been to several military cemeteries where there are rows of crosses, surely they would be exempt, but probably not. The cross has been with us for a long time, we need to be together, like we used to be instead of the segregation we've been under for several years. The old saying "United We Stand And Divided We Fall" needs a repeat.

Just a reminder of how in the past from the beginning of our country with the Revolutionary War, to establish the United States of America, as to the extent of lives sacrificed, wounded or had lives changed forever to keep our flag flying as it was to be. Not as many remember the 48 star flag, like some of us. The history of our flags isn't being taught like in the past, like the different number of stars, what they represent and why. I grew up pledging the allegiance to three different flags - the 48th, 49th and 50th. I ran across some figures that may help to remember the number of American citizens who can or rather, in most cases, could have. From the Revolutionary War to present day conflicts, this is what I found, some case numbers weren't available, so these figures are conservative:

- Military deaths - 728,918
- Wounded - 28,301,060
- # serving - 45,291,425

Even with all the modern electronics, it's hard to get correct figures, someone has to come up with them in the first place, seems too easy to change to suit. The amount of billions of dollars spent on keeping the U.S. as it was established is staggering, to say the least, but the cost of lives can never be replaced. Also, how you may have felt while he or she may have been gone, worrying and praying that they were safe and would make it home. During WW2, the gold stars hanging in the windows were reminders of the loss that household had, for ones they were proud of for standing up for their country and giving their lives for it. Memories like that never go away.

We (USA) were referred to as the mixing pot of different races, religion, political beliefs, etc., of the many legal immigrants from many different countries, but then they came to America to be one of us and became a citizen, conforming to our ways, instead of trying to change us to their beliefs and ways, with their hands out expecting to be cared for, like the ones crossing borders. That's the big problem now. After writing this, I feel like going out and trying to buy a Confederate flag. Just kidding?

On A Mission 2015 - Traveled to Oklahoma to continue with the rebuilding from tornados that have hit over the last two years. Eleven youth and six adults hammered nails, mowed and raked yards and worshipped with the local people.

On A Mission 2015 returns to Oklahoma

On A Mission 2015 is a group of young people and adult leaders from the Mound City First Christian Church that travels near and far on missions of labor and faith. Sunday through Friday, July 26-31, the group returned to an area in Oklahoma where it had served in 2013.

The group was thrilled to see new houses where tents had stood two years ago. On this trip, the mission group was able to help in different ways than before.

This year the group hung drywall in a home that had been inundated with four feet of water after receiving 23 inches of rain in a short period of time. Group members helped a family by putting down sod and building a fence. A retired couple, in which the husband had suffered a stroke, needed help in getting their tornado damaged trees trimmed and yard in shape.

In another mission, a master gardener and wife have a new house but the landscaping was a mess. The group mowed, weeded transplanted cannas, put down landscaping rocks and planted a perennial garden. Upon returning to the home of T.J. and Margaret Collins, a couple the group had helped in 2013, it was discovered that Margaret, the driver in the family, had fallen and fractured her back. Their only daughter lives in California and is ill so the couple has no one to help them. On A Mission 2015 spruced up the Collins property and did some housework for the couple.

Money that was donated or earned by the group before departing for Oklahoma was put to good use. The group rented a dumpster for the house where the drywall was hung. Donations were left with the Pecan Valley Relief Center to purchase food; given to Duane and Bobby Wheat, the volunteers running the center and a huge part of directing the ongoing recovery work; and the Hilltop Baptist Church who has housed volunteers for the last 18 months. The Hilltop Church generously allows volunteers to use the church building and anything in it. On A Mission 2015 left its unused non-perishables at the church to be put in the church's food pantry. The group also purchased sod and all of the landscaping material needed for the master gardener's house. Over $2,000 was spent or donated to the mission work of the group.

Money was also needed for supplies, food, gas and entertainment for the team. This year, the hard workers were treated to an afternoon at White Water, a water park. On the group's way home, a stop was made at the Oklahoma City Memorial, a subject the youth had studied in school.

Members of the mission team that traveled to Oklahoma are Austin Acton, Kaitie Smith, Sylvia Foust, Aaron Grant, Donovan Kemerling, Josiah Foust, Grant Nauman, Gabe Nauman, Chloe Kemerling, Trinity Diggs, Destiny Diggs, Paul Grant, Linda Nauman, Dennis and Susan Nauman and Dennis and Cindy Reule.

She served in the same capacity the prior year. A room was available in the school building, and it would be used instead of the quarters donated the prior year by the Presbyterian Church. It appeared that approximately 40 children would be eligible to go to kindergarten, too many for one class. The group would be divided into a morning session and afternoon session.

- The first synchronized swimming show was planned for Mound City. The team of swimmers in the show were Donna Scarbrough, Hilda Field, Sarah Field, Kay Hollenbeck, Glenda Graff, Janet Johnson, Patty Ball, Debbie Keiffer, Debbie Crouse, Dorothy Hood, Patsy Hollenbeck, Lynda Hall, Rita Karsten, Priscilla Clark and Judy Haynes.

- Charles Martin of Watson, Skelley Miles of Fairfax, and Benson Gaffney of Craig were re-elected to the board of directors of Atchison-Holt Electric Cooperative at the annual meeting.

25 Years Ago - 1990

- The royalty for the Little Mr. and Miss Punkin Show at Skidmore was Blake Darby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Darby, Skidmore, and Tara Carpenter, daughter of Keith and Cheryl Dreher, Skidmore.

- Gene and Betty Poynter painted the message "Have a Nice Walk" on the back of their utility shed to greet the walkers and runners on the Holt County R-II track.

- Candidates in the upcoming primary county elections were: Associate circuit judge - Robert Sheperd and Wm. S. Richards; commissioner, 1st district - Kenneth Weis and Wayne Hall; presiding commissioner - John Killin and Bob Doebbeling; county clerk - Alita Meyer and Jim Luce; collector of revenue - Nancy Elliott, Richard Buntz and Patsy Smith; and county treasurer - Anna Lou Doebbeling, Susan Noland and Sharon Greiner.

- After helping lead a solar car team to 8th place in a 10-day race from Texas to Canada, Mound City grad Justin Wilson came home tired, glad to have had the experience, glad for how well they did, but also "glad it's over."

Crop-growing season could be wettest on record for 121 years

At the end of July, Missouri fell a few raindrops shy of having the wettest May to July on record. Before the final tally of the average, the rain totaled 22.41 inches. The wet record was only 0.14 inch more at 22.55 in 1981.

Pat Guinan, University of Missouri (MU) Extension climatologist, says the rainfall total can change. "It could be the wettest on record, as current numbers are preliminary."

It takes a while to receive all rain reports from 200 official reporting stations across the state, said Guinan.

Monthly totals were 7.26 inches in May, 7.31 in June and 7.84 in July. The July rain ranks fourth-wettest going back 121 years.

"The wet year is an anomaly," Guinan says. "It's not just total rain, but the frequency." In three months, the Kansas City weather station reported 48 days with measurable rain. The normal, based on 30 years of records, is 32 days.

Wet weather hit agriculture hard. Crop farmers faced delayed and prevented plantings. Livestock farmers couldn't bale quality hay for winter feed.

"Haymaking was hit hard," says Craig Roberts, MU Extension forage specialist. "Those with management-intensive grazing did well if they matched livestock demand to forage growth. A downside was water-logged soils."

Frequent cloudy skies affect growing-degree days that drive crop development. Plant photosynthesis depends on sunshine. Water-soaked soils slow root growth and cut usable nitrogen.

"Most unusual was widespread distribution of rain across the state," Guinan told farmers at the annual Crop Injury Clinic at MU Bradford Research Center, Columbia, MO. "There was no drought anywhere."

At the crop clinic, Guinan said El Niño's influence is difficult to discern in Missouri, which is in a transition zone between the northern and southern United States.

Earlier, at the end of regular soybean planting, MU Extension soybean specialist Bill Wiebold said more than 1.3 million acres of the crop remained unplanted in Missouri. The state led the nation in unplanted crop.

On Monday, July 27, the Missouri Agricultural Statistics Service reported corn silking fell 28 points behind last year. Soybean blooming was 38 points below years of age and over).

4 p.m.: Bathub Race. Tub will be furnished. Medals awarded to 1st and 2nd place winners.

4 p.m.: Blind leading the blind contest in front of the Smokehouse. Drivers must be at least 16 years old.

4 p.m.: Barnyard Bingo behind the fire station. Guess which square the Barnyard Animal will leave a deposit. Purchase tickets each day, August 27-29, and wait for the 4 p.m. announcement each day.

4:30 p.m.: Cake walk at the Graham Social Center.

5:30 p.m.: Graham Lions Club pork chop meal at the Graham Community Building. Featured food items also include baked beans and coleslaw.

8 p.m.: "The Bullhauleders" Country Music Program at the Graham City Park stage.

Transportation and the region

There is a transportation community working in northwest Missouri to improve the region's roadways. The Northwest Missouri Regional Council of Governments is a region-wide advocate for rural communities in Atchison, Gentry, Holt, Nodaway, and Worth counties, and coordinates local officials to help determine regional transportation needs.

Chance Long, Maryville, MO, serves as the Regional Planner at the Northwest Missouri Regional Council of Governments. He coordinates local input for transportation needs in the five counties on behalf of the Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT). Long facilitates transportation meetings, researches and writes grants to improve the local transportation system and looks for ways to improve the safety of the roads in the region.

One way the Regional Council of Governments gathers local input is by coordinating a Transportation Advisory Committee (TAC), a group of elected officials and concerned citizens that represents each of the five counties. The committee meets on a quarterly basis to discuss transportation needs in the region, prioritize projects for MoDOT, organize road safety assessments and to voice any concerns regarding general transportation needs.

A direct example of how TAC improves transportation infrastructure in the region is through its involvement with the Statewide Transportation Improvement Plan (STIP). The STIP is prepared annually and sets the specific projects MoDOT will take on in the next five years. The list covers highways and bridges, transit, aviation, rail, waterways, enhancements and other projects. Every year TAC members compile a list of roads that need the most attention and then prioritize those needs. MoDOT takes this information into consideration when funding becomes available. The identified projects may be added to the STIP.

Improve the transportation system and safety by getting involved and staying informed. For more information about transportation projects in the region, visit www.MoDOT.org. For questions and comments, contact Chance Long at (660) 582-5121 or email him at chance@nwmorcog.org.

Disaster declaration announced by President Obama

President Obama designated Kansas counties as primary agricultural disaster areas making certain farmers and other agricultural producers in primary and contiguous counties eligible for low-interest emergency loans from United States Department of Agriculture's (USDA's) Farm Service Agency (FSA).

Eight Missouri counties including Andrew, Buchanan, Holt and Platte were designated as contiguous disaster areas due to damages and losses caused by severe storms, tornadoes, straight-line winds and flooding which occurred May 4 to June

All counties listed above were designated disaster areas on Monday, July 20, 2015, making all qualified farm operators in the designated areas eligible for low interest emergency (EM) loans from FSA, provided eligibility requirements are met. Farmers in eligible counties have eight months from the date of the declaration to apply for loans to help cover part of their actual losses. FSA will consider each loan application on its own merits, taking into account the extent of losses, security available and repayment ability.

Loans for physical losses must be used to replace or repair damage to buildings, fences or to compensate the farmer for losses of basic livestock, stored crops, or supplies on hand, equipment, etc., that was lost due to the disaster. Loans for production losses may also be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to make payments on real estate or chattel debts. Generally, loans for production losses cannot be approved until crops have completed their production cycle or have been harvested.

In order to qualify, a farmer must have suffered a 30 percent loss in production or an actual physical loss that was essential to the successful operation of the farm.

USDA also has made a variety of other programs available to assist farmers in recovering from the disaster, including the Emergency Conservation Program (ECP); Federal Crop Insurance; and the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program.

Interested farmers may contact the Nodaway County FSA office at (660) 582-7423 (ext. 2) for further information on eligibility requirements and application procedures for these and other programs or visit www.fsa.usda.gov.

USDA proposes new ways to help meet nutrition needs

On Monday, July 13, Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack announced that the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) is proposing to improve access to groceries for home bound seniors and people with disabilities who participate in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). USDA is proposing for the first time to permit grocery purchasing and delivery services run by government and non-profit organizations to accept SNAP benefits as payment, allowing for home delivery to those unable to shop for food. Vilsack announced the proposal during the 2015 White House Conference on Aging. Nationally, only 42 percent of eligible elderly individuals participate in SNAP, compared to 83 percent for all people who are eligible.

"Home delivery of groceries is an important step forward in serving the needs of these vulnerable populations. Allowing home bound seniors and people with disabilities to use their SNAP benefits through government and non-profit home delivery services will help ensure they have access to healthy foods," Secretary Vilsack said, noting that one in five SNAP participants is either elderly or disabled. "This issue has a particular importance for seniors living in rural areas, as America's rural population is older than the nation overall and rural seniors experience higher poverty than seniors nationwide."

Authorized by the 2014 Farm Bill, the proposed rule outlines eligibility and participation criteria for purchasing and delivery services serving the home bound elderly and disabled, and seeks comment from stakeholders.

In addition, USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) will soon begin seeking up to 20 food purchasing and delivery services to participate in a one year pilot program. Lessons learned during the pilot program will be used to help shape the final rule.

As the nation's first line of defense against hunger, SNAP helps put food on the table for millions of low income families and individuals every month and has never been more critical to the fight against hunger. SNAP is a vital supplement to the monthly food budget of more than 46 million low-income individuals. Nearly half of SNAP participants are children, nine percent are over 60 and more than 40 percent of recipients live in households with earnings.

For more information about the pilots, the proposed rule or to submit comments, please visit the FNS list of Federal Register Documents for SNAP.

Vilsack's announcement was made possible by the 2014 Farm Bill, which builds on historic economic gains in rural America over the past six years, while achieving meaningful reform and billions of dollars in savings for the taxpayer. Since enactment, USDA has implemented many provisions of this critical legislation, providing disaster relief to farmers and ranchers; strengthening risk management tools; expanding access to rural credit; funding critical research; establishing innovative public-private conservation partnerships; developing new markets for rural-made products; and investing in infrastructure, housing and community facilities to help improve quality of life in rural America. For more information, visit www.usda.gov/farmbill.

Cover crops for prevented planting acres

Wet conditions across the area continue and there are acres left unplanted. Cover crops are a choice, if planted, to suppress weeds, control erosion and add nitrogen for next year's crop.

Several cover crops will fit northwest Missouri depending on the goals and how much one wants to spend on cover crop seed.

Warm season grass cover crops include sorghum-sudan, pearl millet, grain sorghum and corn. These will scavenge nitrogen and produce a lot of biomass and will die at first hard freeze. Seed can be obtained that is male sterile if concerned about off-types of sorghum-sudan.

Other grass cover crops include cereal rye, winter wheat, triticale and spring oats. Cereal rye has more flexibility than most. However, be sure to terminate cereal rye two weeks prior to planting corn.

If anyone is looking to provide nitrogen for next year, consider hairy vetch, peas, cowpeas, soybeans or sun hemp. If one is in a winter wheat rotation, be careful of hard seed from hairy vetch which could cause problems in marketing wheat. Hard seed lays in the soil and can germinate in the future during the wheat rotation.

Cover crops can be planted as a single species which is easier to manage or in mixes which will provide multiple benefits and diversity.

Crop insurance has some restrictions that must be considered. If a grower decides to utilize a cover crop during or after the end of the late planting period and wants to receive a full PP payment, the cover crop cannot be hayed or grazed before November 1. Also, the cover crop cannot be harvested for grain or seed at any time. Questions about cover crops may be directed to growers' insurance agents.

Zembles brothers run in Missouri Show-Me Games

The Chris and Dana Zembles family, Mound City, traveled to Columbia, MO, to give sons, Lane and Keaton, a chance to participate in the 31st Annual Missouri Show-Me State Games. The Show-Me Games were established in 1985 as a non-profit program of the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Health and are hosted by the University of Missouri (MU). The participation in 2014 made the Missouri Show-Me State Games the largest state games in the country.

On Saturday, July 25, Keaton, 9, ran a 1500-meter run (1 mile) at the games. He competed in the 9-10 year-old age division with 11 other boys. Keaton came in fourth place with a time of 6:51.

He was very happy with his run but said, "I will run it again next year and place to receive a medal." Keaton ran in Walton Stadium on the MU campus.

Lane, 12, ran the Show-Me Games' 5K on Sunday, July 26, next to Bethel Park in Columbia. Over 100 runners of various ages competed and Lane came in first in his age division and fourth overall with a time of 22:11. He received a first place medal and was very pleased with his run. Like his brother, Keaton, he is planning on running again next year.

Both boys enjoyed the experience and had great fun. They plan to participate in other events next year in addition to the running events.

Initiative petition approved for circulation for 2016 ballot

On Wednesday, July 22, Secretary of State Jason Kander announced an initiative petition relating to reducing the number of members of the Missouri House of Representatives met state standards for circulation.

The official ballot title for initiative petition 2016-065 reads:

Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to change the process for electing members of the Missouri House of Representatives by:

- reducing the number to 50 members and electing each member statewide rather than by legislative district;
- allowing political parties to select their nominees by a statewide primary election, caucuses, party nominating convention, or a combination of caucuses and a convention;
- permitting independent candidates to qualify for the general election by submitting a certain number of signatures; and
- awarding House seats based on the total statewide percentage received in the general election by each political party and independent candidates?

Reduced legislative operating costs would result in annual estimated savings to state government of at least $9.3 million. An unknown change in election related costs is expected for state and local governments.

The petition, which would amend Article III of the Missouri Constitution, was submitted by Winston Apple, 15517 E. 40th St. South, Independence, MO 64055.

Before any constitutional changes can be brought before Missouri voters in the November 2016 election, signatures must be obtained from registered voters equal to eight (8) percent of the total votes cast in the 2012 governor's election from six of the state's eight congressional districts.

Signatures on behalf of all initiative petitions for the 2016 ballot are due to the secretary of state's office by no later than 5 p.m. on May 8, 2016.

Before circulating petitions, state law requires that groups must first have the form of said petition approved by the secretary of state and attorney general. The secretary of state then prepares a summary statement of no more than 100 words, and the state auditor prepares a fiscal impact statement, both of which are subject to the approval of the attorney general. When both statements are approved, they become the official ballot title.

TCC Rehab Offers New Vital Stimulation Technology

If not properly managed, dysphagia can lead to: aspiration pneumonia, choking, chronic malnutrition, severe life-threatening dehydration, an increased rate of infection, longer hospital stays, or long-term institutional care - and possibly death.

VitalStim Therapy is a technical breakthrough in therapeutic intervention for use in the treatment of dysphagia (swallowing disorders). It is a specialized form of neuromuscular electrical stimulation (NMES), specifically designed to treat dysphagia. NMES has a proven, long-term track-record in a wide variety of therapeutic and rehabilitative settings.

- VitalStim Therapy is a non-invasive external electrical stimulation therapy that re-educates the throat muscles needed for swallowing. The device is a portable, dual-channel electrotherapy system that is used with electrodes specifically designed for application to the muscles of the throat to promote swallowing during Speech therapy treatment.
- VitalStim Therapy is delivered using uniquely designed external skin electrodes, placed on specific neck muscles in a pattern that has been fully validated. Because the electrical current emitted by the device has been carefully selected to elicit a contraction in the muscles responsible for a normal swallow response, use of VitalStim Therapy leads to improved quality of the muscle contraction, and thereby to improved swallow function.

TCC Rehab offers Vital Stim evaluation and treatment by our Specialty Certified Vital Stim Therapist Patti Griffith, CCC-SLP.
